

IMPOSSIBLE TO SHOW BIG NEW LIGHTS HERE; WILL VISIT NEWBURGH

President Beal Writes Public Works Board That Demonstration of Small Lights Can be Arranged—Trolley Company Makes Paving Suggestion—Sewers, Streets, Playgrounds and Other Matters.

President T. R. Beal of the Kingston Gas and Electric Company sent in a communication to the board of public works at its regular monthly session Thursday evening stating it had been found impossible to arrange for a demonstration of the proposed new 600 candle power street lights to replace the present antiquated arcs, but that it would be possible to demonstrate the proposed smaller lights intended to replace the present incandescent lights. His suggestion that it would be possible to arrange a demonstration in Newburgh where the proposed lights are used met with the approval of Mayor Morris Block and the members of the board. Mayor Block presided with Commissioners Chaffler, Oppenheimer, Van Etten and Hiltner present.

President Beal's Letter.

President Beal in his communication to the board wrote that it would be impossible to make a satisfactory demonstration in Kingston of the proposed new large light because the type of current in use on the street lighting system here is not suited to the new lamps, and in order to arrange a demonstration the company would be obliged to spend a considerable sum for special equipment necessary to transform the current. The company is arranging, however, for a demonstration with the 60 candle power lamp and Mr. Acker would advise the board when it is ready for inspection, which will be at an early date.

The city of Newburgh is using a street lighting system the same as is proposed for Kingston, and although the large units there are nearly all of 400 candle power instead of the proposed 600 candle power units he found that it would be possible to install the 600 c. p. units on the same circuits and that the electric people believed that an effective demonstration could be arranged to show illumination in a typical block of business street. He wrote that he felt, however, that the suggested trip to Lynn would be preferable for the reason that it would be possible to show the new lamps in direct comparison with the same type now used in Kingston.

To Visit Newburgh.

Dr. George Chandler, who was attending his first meeting of the board since his trip abroad, said that he believed it was time some action was taken in the matter of street lighting. He moved that the secretary of the board notify Mr. Beal that the lighting committee would visit Newburgh shortly to see the proposed demonstration, and that when the committee reported back to the board some action be taken in the matter of street lighting. The resolution was adopted.

Want To Tear Up Street.

The Kingston Gas & Electric Company applied for permission to open Lindenman avenue for the purpose of replacing the gas main.

This avenue was recently laid with Willite by the board of public works and the members were not in favor of granting any permission to tear up any permanent improved street.

The question of whether the gas company could not lay the proposed main under the sidewalks instead of tearing up the pavement was discussed, and the matter was referred to the street committee and City Engineer Darrow to take it up with the gas company.

Mr. Tebow's Suggestion.

General Manager G. Burton Tebow of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company was present and stated that the trolley road was anxious to proceed with its road work not later than April 10. The board of public works expects to improve Fair street by laying an asphalt pavement similar to that laid in Auburn street in Ponckhockie.

Mr. Tebow said that he did not favor laying the pavement up close to the tracks as has been done in the case of laying Willite on some of the streets through which the trolley tracks run. He said that the Willite cracked, and for that reason the trolley road had never been able to get a guarantee from the Willite Company for the Willite people knew it would crack when laid up against the trolley rails.

Mr. Tebow said that his idea was to receive permission from the board to lay an asphalt macadam between the tracks and for two feet outside the tracks. To do this the trolley company would lay a curbing eight inches wide and eight inches deep against which the macadam would be laid.

He would also like permission, he said, to lay concrete between the rails and two feet outside the tracks, if the trolley road at the last minute felt it could afford to spend that much money. He preferred concrete although it would cost several times more than the pavement proposed by the board of public works.

He called attention to the concrete laid between the tracks of the trolley company on Thomas street. It had been down ten years and was still in excellent condition.

On the other hand the trolley road, he said, did not want a job like that on Clinton avenue and Cedar street, which was due, he said, to the fact that it was laid too thin. He thought if the mixture was made thicker the trolley road would have a much better job.

The matter was referred to the street committee and Superintendent Darrow with power to investigate and give the trolley road permission to go ahead with its plans if the committee and superintendent deemed it to the best advantage of the city to do so.

Supervised Play.

Miss Ruth Sherburne of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, who said she had spent nineteen years in the work, was present at the meeting and made a plea for supervised play at the city's playgrounds this summer. She said she realized that the city budget had been made up and that it did not contain an appropriation for the work this summer that it be considered in making up the budget at the close of this year. The matter was referred to the park committee.

Signs And Stations.

The Postal Telegraph wrote asking permission to install an electric sign in front of the office, 294 Fair street. The request was referred to the superintendent with power.

The Colonial City Restaurant's request for an electric sign in front of 19 Broadway was also referred to Mr. Darrow with power.

Frank E. Tease asked permission to install a gas tank and pump in front of 131 Franklin street. It was referred to the street committee.

Want Sanitary Sewers.

Residents of Greenkill avenue and South Wall street petitioned the board to install a sanitary sewer on Greenkill avenue, between Pine street and South Wall street and on South Wall street. It was referred to the street committee and engineer.

Summer street residents petitioned for a sewer in that street which was also referred to the street committee and engineer.

The same action was taken in the petition of residents on Spring street, between Ravine and Hudson street, asking for a sewer.

Built Garage On Street.

Mrs. Eugenie A. Flicker sent in a communication asking the board to take some action in regard to a garage that had been built in Park avenue in front of her property and which occupied one-half of the street, partially blocking entrance to her grounds which she leased from the railroad. The street had been used as a street since 1870 and as she had to pay taxes she could not see why any one else could use the street free of charge. Her letter was referred to the street committee.

Compensation Insurance.

As the compensation insurance policies carried by the board on its employees expires in April the board by a vote of three to two gave the business to Decker & Fowler. Messrs. Oppenheimer and Van Etten favored the firm of Brinlier & Carey.

North Front Street Parking.

General Manager Tebow said that he wanted the board to consider between now and the next meeting the question of parking of cars on North Front street. He said that at the next meeting he would make a request that the board prohibit parking of cars on North Front street between Crown and Wall streets on Saturdays between the hours of 2 in the afternoon and 10 o'clock in the evening. During those hours the trolley cars could hardly get through the street as it was so congested by the parking of cars on both sides of the street.

To Eliminate Car Stops.

Mr. Tebow also said that the trolley road would eliminate a number of unnecessary stops such as Mill street, Van Deusen street, etc. He said the trolley road would pay for the work but he would like the board to authorize its street artist who painted the white crossing marks on the pavement at street intersections during the summer to also mark out these non-stops by painting on the street "Cars Do Not Stop Here." His request was granted.

A Sewer Experiment.

During the Canfield administration the advisability of laying sanitary sewers under the sidewalks instead of in the street was discussed and on Foxhall avenue for a short distance, just beyond Wiltywick avenue intersection, the board of public works at that time laid a sewer under the sidewalk on one sidewalk on one side of the street, but not on the other side.

John Gellner is now erecting a garage and paint shop on the opposite of Foxhall avenue, and now wants permission to hook up to the sewer on the other side of the street. When the sewer was built under the sidewalk the property owners on the other side of the street were not assessed for it as they would receive no benefit from it.

For that reason when Mr. Gellner first applied for permission to hook up with the sewer he was informed to bring his request before the board at its meeting.

Mr. Gellner was present Thursday evening and made his request. After talking the matter over the board reached the conclusion that it would be better to lay a sanitary

STORK KEPT CITY HALL FOLKS BUSY

Old Mr. Stork as he alighted on the city hall tower early this morning wiped his bill reflectively and observed: "Well, I guess I have filled all the March orders for the folks who work in the building here. The stork had just flown to the city hall from the residence of City Marshal Arthur Rice at No. 148 West Pierpoint street, where he had dropped a bouncing baby girl. This was the fourth order for a girl for the city hall folks. Thursday he delivered a twelve pound daughter to Policeman and Mrs. William Roedel at the Benedictine Hospital. Earlier in the month he had delivered bouncing baby girls to Policeman Winfield Bittrott and Policeman Peter Camp.

Wonderly Gets Company Control

Clyde E. Wonderly Buys Interest Of Herbert Carl In The Wonderly Company, Thereby Securing Control.

Clyde E. Wonderly on Thursday purchased the stock and interest of Herbert Carl in The Wonderly Company, No. 315 Wall street and thereby has secured controlling interest of the company.

For the past five years Mr. Wonderly has been the efficient manager of The Wonderly Company. He came to Kingston eleven years ago and for six years was prominently identified with G. A. Hart & Company, to whose business The Wonderly Company succeeded. Through efficient and energetic management he has built up the business of The Wonderly Company whose store is one of the finest dry goods stores along the Hudson river. Mr. Carl has had an interest in The Wonderly Company since it took over the business of Hart & Company.

The Wonderly Company will celebrate the change in the firm with a reorganization sale in all departments next week. The company will continue to carry the same lines of high class merchandise as formerly.

LITTLE BOY HIT BY AN AUTO, HAS FRACTURED LEG

Little William Dietz was struck by an auto driven by Leon Chambers at the intersection of Wall street and Lindenman avenue early Thursday evening and hurtled to the ground. Mr. Chambers picked him up and hurried him to the Kingston City Hospital where Dr. Snyder found that the lad had sustained a fractured leg, a scalp wound and was bruised about the body. It is said that the boy ran out into the road in front of the auto.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. James Turek, Staples's brickyard, a son Michael.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hatfield, Hillside street, a daughter, Minnie E.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. McConnell, 492 Delaware avenue, a son Donald Joseph.

Fishing Season.

The fishing season opens on April 5, the first Saturday of the month, when the law goes off trout. For those who do not know, the minimum length allowed is six inches and the maximum catch per day is ten pounds. Pike and pickerel season opens on May 1.

New Suit on Sale.

The rummage sale at Holy Cross parish house is still going on. A double bed of enamel and brass, a new suit of men's clothing, five parlor furniture and other useful articles have been collected. The sale will remain open this evening until 8 o'clock.

Play At Stone Ridge.

The T. N. T. Club of Flatbush will give the play, "My Irish Rose," at the Stone Ridge Grange Hall on Wednesday, April 2, at 8 o'clock. The club has already given this play at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall and twice at the Flatbush clubhouse.

Attending Banquet.

State Troopers Vandecar and Kross, stationed at Glasco, attended the annual banquet held Thursday at Sydney, N. Y.

sewer through Wiltywick avenue and those living on Foxhall avenue, whose lots ran through to Wiltywick avenue could connect with the proposed new sewer.

In that way it would avoid digging up Foxhall avenue and hooking on the sewer under the sidewalk which was not built large enough to carry more sewage than it handled at the present time.

Superintendent Darrow was directed to prepare an ordinance at once for the construction of a sewer in Wiltywick avenue.

To Inspect Streets.

Mayor Block called attention to the fact that street work would shortly start and it was decided for the street committee to make a tour of the city with Superintendent Darrow on Wednesday and decide what streets would be fixed first.

The board then adjourned after auditing some bills.

Ex-Trooper Is Held as Bandit

Kingston Man Identifies John H. Benedict as One of Trio Who Held Him Up and Took $200.

Troy, March 28.—John H. Benedict, twenty-nine, a former state trooper, who says his home is in Glens Falls, was identified in the Troy jail late Thursday. It is alleged, by John Christiano of Kingston, as one of three men who held him up on a road near Hudson last month and robbed him of $200 in cash and his automobile.

Benedict was arrested in Glens Falls Wednesday night by Sergeant Lockman of the state troopers on a warrant charging grand larceny. He was alleged to have obtained $75 on a fraudulent check from the Conway Drug Company of Troy. When arrested before Judge Byron in Troy yesterday he was committed to jail in default of $1,000 bail for a hearing April 4.

Detective John Talbot said last night he had in his possession a federal warrant sworn out for Benedict at Malone, accusing him of running rums. Other persons from Kingston saw Benedict in the Hensseler county jail yesterday but were unable to identify him.

"Y" Banquet and Armory Dance

This evening at the armory, the Paul Whiteman's Levathan Band will supply the music for the dance to be held under the auspices of the local battery companies. The soldier boys have been very busily occupied completing arrangements for this affair as they hope to give all those attending an enjoyable evening. The proceeds of the dance will go toward the local companies.

Before going to the armory the band will play at the annual Men's Banquet at the Y. M. C. A.

FAREWELL RECEPTION GIVEN THE REV. MR. INGERSOLL

The annual roll call of the Wurts Street Baptist Church Thursday evening, held in the church parlors, was also the occasion for a farewell reception to the pastor, the Rev. R. P. Ingersoll, who will preach his final sermon Sunday, going on Monday to Mount Tremper, where he will go into business. Floyd Powell presided over the large gathering and addresses were delivered by the Rev. A. S. Cole, pastor of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church and the Rev. Robert W. Greenwell, pastor of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church. Emory Crow also spoke, telling the regrets and best wishes of the deacons of the church. Harry Tromper did the same for the trustees. Miss Josephine Cromie spoke in behalf of the Christian Endeavorers of the church and F. S. Tongue for the Sunday school. Then Dwight McIntee in a few well chosen words expressed the appreciation of the congregation for the service rendered by his retiring pastor and wished him all success and happiness in his new field. Mr. Ingersoll responded very feelingly and also sang a solo.

Italians Can Be Led, Too.

In the article in Thursday evening's issue of The Freeman, reporting the address by Whiting Williams, one sentence, through a typographical error read as follows: "The Italians could not be driven either, but did not want to follow a good leader, etc." when it should have read: "The Italians could not be driven either, but did want to follow a good leader, and men of France and Great Britain did appreciate and were willing to work for a leader—not a driver."

Food Sale Tomorrow.

Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, there will be a food sale at the home of Miss Ruth Tongue, 17 President's Place.

Washington, March 28.—Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty retired from the cabinet today under conditions that amounted virtually to a removal from office by President Coolidge.

Mr. Coolidge asked for the resignation of Mr. Daugherty in a seven hundred word letter, in which he said matters had reached a stage where it was necessary for the president to have the "disinterested advice" of an attorney general, and in view of the investigation now proceeding against Mr. Daugherty, he did not think he was capable of rendering that sort of advice.

The president got Mr. Daugherty's resignation in a sixty word reply that was as brusque and brief as the president's letter was lengthy and explanatory.

The president informed the attorney general that he was not prejudging his guilt or innocence of the charges made against him before the Wheeler committee—but that the present situation was intolerable from the White House viewpoint. Mr. Daugherty's twin positions of being attorney general and at the same time defending himself were incompatible, the president said.

Within an hour after the White House announced the retirement of the attorney general and made public the two letters, Daugherty himself made public a second letter to Mr. Coolidge—written as a private citizen—in which he described the grounds on which Mr. Coolidge asked for his resignation as "untenable."

The position taken by the president that Daugherty could not defend himself from attack and efficiently fulfill his duties as attorney general—was disputed by Mr. Daugherty. He declared the president's contention in this regard to be "hardly warranted by the facts." He called attention to the fact that he had hired counsel at his own expense to defend him, and denied that employees of the government had been put to work in his personal behalf in what he described as "this so-called investigation."

The attorney general bluntly told the president that he was following "a dangerous doctrine" in forcing the resignation of a cabinet officer simply because charges were made against such an officer, and before there was a "fair hearing" on such charges. A precedent is thus established, the attorney general contended, that is "dangerous."

The second letter of the attorney general how malicious and groundless, and he was compelled to give up his responsible position, and sacrifice his honor for the time being because of such attacks, no man in any official position is safe and the most honorable, upright and efficient public servants could be swept from office and stable government destroyed by clamor.

"I have often advised you that my elimination is part of the program now being carried on. The origin of the persistent and vindictive attempts to discredit me as attorney general is well known. It principally proceeds from two sources—the powerful individuals and organizations who resent my successful action in conformity with my sworn duty to save this country from the violence and anarchy during an industrial crisis far more serious than the general public has ever known; second from those equally powerful individuals and organizations, guilty of graft upon the government during the world war while the youth of our land was making the supreme sacrifice for the nation. I have to swear duty to prosecute all such individuals and organizations, but the task has been beset with peculiar difficulties by reason of the fact that the official record in most of these cases was made up by men supposedly representing the government in these transactions who were either knowingly or stupidly parties to the crime. This partnership has ceaselessly sought to break down the faith of the American people in me and the department of justice."

"In the high court of impeachment their attempt to fasten guilt upon me collapsed in disgrace to its originators and they did not dare to appeal again to the constitutional courts."

"In the lower courts of scandal, gossip, rumor and innuendo to which appeal is now made, it will have no better success with the people of this country who read and think and believe in justice and the square deal, but coupled with threats of similar treatment of other public men it has impressed politicians who think everything of personal and party expediency, and nothing of principle involved, with the necessity of offering me as a sacrifice to propitiate the vengeful interests which seek my destruction."

"I cannot escape the conviction, Mr. President, that your request for my resignation is also most untimely. It comes at a time when the truth

"Your suggestion that I cannot function as attorney general and defend myself against the charges made against me, is I believe, well warranted by the facts. You have employed counsel, at my own expense, to take the case before the senate committee in order that I could devote my time to the public business with I have been doing continuously."

"The employees in the department have given no time belonging to the government to this so-called investigation, except to furnish data required by the various congressional committees. The business of the department is at its peak in preparation and accomplishment and I am required to demonstrate this fact before any tribunal if opportunity is offered."

"Your suggestion that an attack upon a cabinet officer disqualifies him for further official service is a dangerous doctrine, Mr. President, all the pretended charges against me are false. But whether true or false, if a member of the cabinet is to be incapacitated or disqualified by the preferment of charges against him, no mat-

UNITE TO HONOR GEN. LAFAYETTE

America and France Join in Memorial to Marquis.

A memorial in France to the Marquis de Lafayette, to perpetuate the memory of this famous Frenchman through good works, is the accomplishment in a period of four years of an American society known as the Lafayette Memorial, which has the support and co-operation of a large number of prominent French and American men and women. The memorial today is not a project, but a going concern, taking the form of a school and orphanage; a pre-tubercular sanitarium, and finally a museum.

It is the purpose of the society to maintain the Chateau Lafayette, in central France, as a permanent memorial to the marquis and to the memory of the allied heroes who were killed in the World war. It should become, members of the society say, an American national memorial like Mount Vernon on the Potomac, the birthplace of George Washington.

Birthplace Chosen Site.
The memorial is located in the old Lafayette chateau, at Chavagnac, 350 miles south of Paris, where the marquis was born in 1757. This property, consisting of various buildings and 175 acres of land, has been acquired by the society.

The chateau was the home of Lafayette's ancestors for centuries, and here the French hero of American independence grew up to early manhood. The building has been restored, where necessary, and made sound and solid throughout. New structures have been added to the group, and everything has been provided, in the way of modern improvements, for the health, comfort and proper education of the children cared for by the memorial.

A modern water supply has been installed, and modern plumbing and sanitary equipment have been established in all the buildings, which are served by a modern sewage disposal plant. Electric light and central heating have been put in, and a modern dairy with a fine herd has been established to furnish the best milk and butter. Part of the domain has been modernized and extended so as to afford the finest of farm products. A cobbler's shop, has been created to make boots for the children, and there is a carpenter shop for estate repairs. Modern fire protection has been installed. There are baseball and football fields, tennis courts and a swimming pool.

American Training Given.

In the school and preventorium, which house today a total of 250 children, war refugees and war orphans, the outdoor training of an American school is given. The youngsters are taught boxing, baseball, etc., and also receive a first-class training for the French baccalaureate examination. When they are old enough these boys will be sent out to receive training in the big businesses of America, such as the United States Steel company, General Electric company, etc. Forty of the boys in the school are French, 25 Russian, 25 Polish and 10 Italian.

The head of the school is an experienced Anglo-Saxon master assisted by an able staff. It can safely be said that nowhere in France is there a group of boys of similar ages, from eight to sixteen years, receiving a better education than the boys in the Lafayette school.

Museum Contains Many Relics.

The preventorium is run on the lines evolved by Doctor Rollier in Switzerland and in co-operation with the department of public hygiene of the French government. Here some two hundred delicate children, from five to twelve years old, threatened with tuberculosis, are given sunlight, good food and careful attention. When their health permits they are given elementary education, and later they may pass on to the advanced school in the chateau.

The museum is housed in the chateau itself and centers in the room in which Lafayette was born. Here are many interesting relics, such as Washington's duelling pistols, which were given by him to Lafayette; the snuff box given to Lafayette by Benjamin Franklin with some of his wife's hair in it, etc. There are also many relics of the recent war, such as the uniforms of General Joffre and other leaders, guns, gas masks, parachutes, etc.

Identification Cards

Needed to Enter Mexico

Persons going into Mexico from Brownsville, Tex., will have to secure identification cards, customs officials announce. This rule has been in force at other border towns for some time, it is said.

The cards are in no way related to passports and are only to identify the holder to officials to prevent delays. Chief Brewster states. Persons crossing the border regularly will be allowed several days to secure the cards before the ruling is enforced, it is said.

Roadster . . . $785
Touring Car . . . 795
Sport Touring . . . 915
Coupe . . . 1075
Sedan . . . 1135

The G. M. A. C. extended payment plan makes buying easy. All prices f. o. b. Lansing. Tax and spare tire extra.

Genuine Oldsmobile parts can be purchased from any Oldsmobile dealer in any part of the United States, at a standard price established by the factory without the addition of any war tax, handling, or transportation charges. Every Oldsmobile dealer has a master parts list issued by factory which is always open for owners' inspection.

Frankly, the Oldsmobile Six Cab was built for doctors, salesmen, and those who need a car daily in business. Such a car should be storm-and-cold-proof, six-cylindrical for flexibility, irreproachable in appearance, reliable, and of a size insuring easy handling, easy parking, and low maintenance cost. The Cab is that kind of a car—that's why business men are buying it.

Yet, women see more than these solid virtues in the Cab. To them its fine Fisher body and smooth performance mark the difference between mere transportation, and a smart personal motor car.

If you need a high-grade "personal car," the Cab—joint product of Oldsmobile and General Motors—will please you.

A Lifetime Regret Which Your Grief Need Never Feel

The Catacombs
On the Appian Way—near Rome, used as a place of internment and also as a refuge by the early Christians. Secure in their natural rock-hewn protection through the centuries, the Catacombs can offer no finer care than is available to every family that selects a Champion Air-Sealed Vault of Copper-Steel.

It is not strange that in the hour of sorrow, those who mourn should overlook doing the things which their calmer afterthought would demand.

That is why we should think now—before the need comes—of the sacred matter of properly caring for our dead.

A life-time of regret may be easily avoided and a comforting assurance felt through all the years that follow grief, if we provide burial protection of absolute security.

Champion Air-Sealed Vaults remove every possible doubt. Made of heavy-gauge Copper-Steel, they completely resist outside pressures, and defy rust, and the simple act of placing the cover in position, automatically seals the contents securely against any possible entrance of water, even though completely submerged.

Champion Vaults have been in use for nearly 40 years. Disinterment has conclusively proven our right to claim complete permanent burial protection.

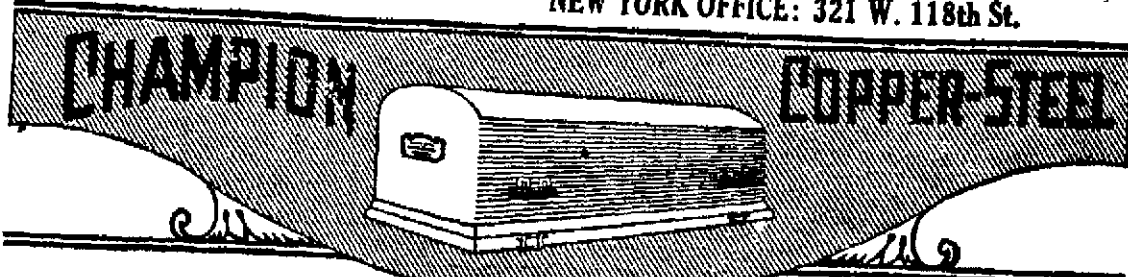

Time cannot crumble
Weight cannot crush
Rust cannot consume
Water cannot penetrate

Your local funeral director is prepared to provide this perfect burial protection.

ROADSIDE IMPROVEMENT.

Farsighted business acumen is not always accompanied by action as appropriate as that of the Standard Oil Company of New York, whose decision to discontinue highway billboards as a means of advertising is supplemented by an announcement that it will furnish free to any concessionaire plans for model booths along highways which will be inexpensive and in keeping with the surroundings.

Standard Oil profits are dependent on bigger sales of oil and gasoline, which will increase as motoring increases. Good roads and beautiful scenery are incentives to more extended motoring. For many years the Standard Oil Company has demonstrated the value of oil in the improvement of highway conditions. Now, it turns its attention to nature and will not only eliminate its ugly billboards but will seek to make motoring more attractive by aiding the small roadside merchant to provide buildings which will help to make and not mar the landscape.

Refreshment booths and so-called "hot dog stands" are generally unsightly, says Herbert L. Pratt, president of the Standard Oil Company of New York. "Often thrown together out of old boxes and odds and ends of lumber, and do much to disfigure the highways. Often, with only a little more expense, it would be possible for the owners of these stands to erect a neat white building of a design which would be an attractive spot by the roadside, and pay for itself many times over in the additional trade which it would draw."

Naturally, improved highway conditions which increase motoring will benefit the Standard Oil Company, but the company not only points the way for others to be helped, but is willing to help them, which is exceedingly good business sense. The Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain section offers a broad field for Standard Oil's architectural staff to exercise their genius in the design of appropriate roadside booths.

While the subject is under discussion it might be well to mention the most dangerous of all misuses of the roadside sign—the fake "stop" or "slow down" signs put up by enterprising, but thoughtless owners of wayside fruit stands, hot dog emporiums, etc. These signs imitate the genuine warning signs, are confusing and tend to bring about disregard of all signs. One good way to abolish them would be for motorists to refrain from making any purchases at places thus advertised. This is probably all that can be done where the signs are on private property. Where they are on the right of way they should be torn down by the authorities and the persons who put them up punished under the existing law which is ample to cover such cases, if enforced.

BY THEIR FRUITS.

President Coolidge sums up the Philippine situation when he says, "One cannot but feel that if the Filipino people cannot cooperate in the support and encouragement of as good an administration as has been afforded under Governor General Wood, their failure will be rather a testimony of unpreparedness for the full obligation of citizenship than an evidence of patriotic eagerness to advance their country."

The acts of General Wood have been very carefully reviewed by President Coolidge and his advisers at Washington, and the ambitious Filipino politicians have been plainly told that this government stands squarely behind him. The improvement of the Philippines under the Wood regime, and his rescue of them from the financial chaos into which they were plunged by eight years of Democratic rule ought to convince doubters of the efficacy of the Wood policies.

A New York firm of bankers came to the rescue of the falling French franc and extended credits of $100,000,000 to the French government. American resources were behind those credits, yet we shall probably continue to hear complaints that America is isolated and not contributing to the upbuilding of Europe.

TEETH EXTRACTION.

You have been having pain in some of your joints, perhaps the knee or hips.

After your physician has gone over you, he suggests that you get an X-Ray of the teeth.

After examining the plate and in consultation with your dentist, it is decided that some of your teeth must come out.

Most physicians and dentists try to retain the natural teeth for you if possible, because they grind the food better, and are more comfortable.

So if they advise the removal of teeth you may rest assured that it is necessary.

And now comes the big worry. You must undergo the extraction of teeth.

As you go to the dentist he tells you that he can extract teeth by three methods.

First: Remove them without any preliminaries whatever. Simply put on the forceps and draw them out. This was the old method.

Second: He can put an anesthetic into your gums that will block the nerves, and you will feel no pain whatever.

Third: He can use gas, which will put you into a dreamy state and you'll feel no pain.

What are you going to do about it?

My suggestion is that you take the dentist's advice in the matter.

If the teeth are diseased and are getting loose in the sockets, there is no need for any anesthetic, either into the gums, or by means of gas.

If the teeth are solidly in their sockets, which is the best method, blocking the nerve with the local anesthetic, or taking the gas?

My suggestion is that if the dentist is an expert on the administration of the gas, it is the simplest and most satisfactory method. Why?

Well, there is no preliminary puncturing of the gums by the needle, although it is not so very painful.

You do not have to wait in suspense until the local anesthetic gets your gums numb.

There is not the possibility of the local anesthetic having a bad effect upon the gums afterwards.

By taking gas, it is all over in a minute or two. There is no shock from the gas like that from ether or chloroform.

You feel all right in a few minutes after getting out of the chair, and do not have any after effects, such as nausea, vomiting, as you do after ether and chloroform.

So that if your dentist advises gas don't be afraid of it.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Simple Frock.

4621. Collar and cuffs of this neat model are checked white and yellow gingham, the frock and sleeves are of yellow poplin. This is a good style for challis, poplin, or linen. It could also be of batiste with collar and cuffs of embroidery. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 2, 4, 6, and 8 years. A 4 year size requires 2 1/2 yards of 27 inch material. For collar and cuffs of contrasting material 3/4 yard is required.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

ROAD BUILDING

CONCRETE "FORDS" OR "DIPS" ON HIGHWAYS

High water conditions in various parts of the country have resulted often in the building of concrete "fords" or "dips" on highways in places where the roads are overflowed in the high water season by the water of a stream or seasonal freshet. Many mistakes have been made in the construction of these "fords," according to George E. Duren, former state highway engineer of Texas, who has superintended the building of many of these crossings in his own states. "Dips" should not be constructed, he contends, in places where the funds will permit improvement of the highway with a bridge or culvert, as a flow of water over a road is bound to obstruct traffic to some extent and will therefore hold the off-ciency of the road below what it would be if there were a bridge or culvert. Only where saving of the cost of a bridge is necessary should "fords" be built.

One of the great mistakes in constructing "fords," he says, has been to make their approaches too steep, with the result that vehicles are unable to maintain a reasonable rate of speed in crossing. Some of them have been made with approaches so steep that a speed of more than ten miles an hour would wreck a car.

Great care should be taken to build these structures so that erosion of the stream or freshet cannot wash away the earth foundation of the "dip." To accomplish this, sloping concrete shoulders are built on each side of the road, in the course of the stream to carry the water up gradually over the road as shown in the illustration.

In places where the flow of water over the highway is likely to become so swift or heavy as to be dangerous at any time, large signs should be posted to warn those using the road.

Knock Misleading Signs

Found Along Many Roads

Branding unnecessary danger signs and "stop" signs used for advertising purposes along public highways as dangerous, many automobile clubs affiliated with the American Automobile association with the co-operation of the state highway departments are campaigning for their removal.

In some Eastern states, where the traffic on main highways is heavy, instances are reported where automatic flash "stop-railroad crossing" signs have been put up by national advertisers 300 feet in advance of a spur track crossing the highway, where the tracks are used once or twice a month, just because the location was ideal from an advertising standpoint. On the same highways where these signs were needed, they were often found missing.

In New Jersey at a wide place in the road, a cut-out painted figure representing a traffic officer and semaphore on the arms of which are painted the words "stop" with the name of the tea house underneath, blocks traffic. The figure of the traffic officer is so realistic under the glare of headlights that motorists who are not acquainted with the deception will instinctively obey the semaphore.

The danger of the use of warning signs or "stop" signs on the highways where they are not required makes the motorist who has been "fooled" by unnecessary signs careless when he approaches a warning signal which is properly placed for his protection, points out the touring transportation bureau of the A. A. A. It is the purpose of the A. A. A. clubs to check up on the use of warning signals on the highways in their territory and take such steps as may be necessary to have misleading signs removed.

Florida Road Plans

Florida is spending $60,000,000 this year on the greatest road construction program ever promoted and accomplished. With nearly all of the 63 counties of Florida participating in road building through the voting of bonds and individual developers constructing hard surface roads from east coast to west coast, from state trunk lines to their properties, a network of asphalt, concrete and brick highways is beginning to cover the state.

HUDSON VALLEY PORTLAND CEMENT CO. BANKRUPTCY

A petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States district court for the Southern District of New York on Wednesday against the Hudson Valley Portland Cement Company of No. 152 West Forty-second street, New York city, the petitioning creditors being the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, for $17,949; Haskins & Wells, $1,637, and the Stephens-Adamson Manufacturing Company, $231. The corporation owns a plant and two hundred acres at Alsen, which has been appraised at over $2,000,000, but which is subject to a mortgage as security for a bond issue of about $1,250,000 of eight per cent gold bonds. In addition to the bond, the corporation is said to owe approximately $750,000. In December, Martin Conboy of New York city was appointed receiver in an equity action, and at that time it was stated the assets exceeded the liabilities by at least $500,000.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, March 27.—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kinney of Ashokan visited at Horace Myers on Saturday.

Horace and Elsie Myers and Reggie Davis made a trip to New Hamburg on Saturday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Edgar.

Stephen Christians of Lyonsville called on Virgil Shurter on Sunday.

A. Haver, the Ford agent, here sold a tractor to Elmer Davis of Krumville on Tuesday.

Lee Shurter was in this place a few days last week, visiting his uncle, Pratt Shurter.

Mrs. Clark and family have returned to their home here.

Mrs. William Colange of West Shokan was in this place on business on Tuesday and called on Mrs. Bevier.

Mrs. Phoebe Lawrence of Saugerties has been spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Adaline Van Kleek, and her sister, Roena Barringer.

Della Barringer has returned home from her work at Vassar, where she has been spending the winter months.

People are looking forward to a fine time at the social to be held in the church hall on Saturday evening, March 29. Everybody welcome. A large attendance is desired.

Was skeptical of Kellogg's Bran until it gave him back his health

Naturally Mr. Carter—whose letter follows—was skeptical. He had tried practically everything for the relief of constipation. All had failed. But Kellogg's Bran brought him permanent relief, just as it has done for thousands of others. Read his letter:

Gentlemen:
I am 43 years old, and have been for years a great sufferer from constipation. I had to resign a clerical position because of runs of blood to my head, some of which caused me to fall to the ground. I took an outdoor laboring job and tried for the first time, skeptically I admit, your Bran. The result has been wonderful. I began to be normal after I had been on the Bran about three days. No more headaches, no more Old Dr. Scott's Emulsion, no more pills, no more laxatives, etc., etc. I have the most wonderful product for constipation I have ever seen or tried. Yours very gratefully,
L. T. Carter, 24 Nineteenth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, does not irritate the intestines like drugs and pills. It acts exactly as nature acts. Eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic case of constipation, or your grocer will return your money. You will like the exclusive, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Sold by all grocers. Made in Battle Creek.

Report Made On Inspection Of City Home

Administration Placed in Class 1 but Plant in Class 11 Plus—Meals Found Excellent, but Building "Needs Combination Fire Escape and Veranda."

The board of charity commissioners has just received copies of the report of an inspection made of the City Home on February 5 of this year by Inspector W. L. Chase of the State Board of Charities. The plant is classified as Class 11 plus; administration, Class 1. The principal need and defect in the building, according to the inspector, is "A combination fire escape and veranda for the use of inmates."

The report in brief states that the board of charities commissioners is composed of William C. Coutant, president, 49 Foxhall avenue; J. Leonard Salzman, 11 Sycamore street; and William B. Byrne, 135 Elmendorf street; Thomas H. Edmonston, secretary and superintendent.

The action taken to remedy defects noted in report of previous inspections was that the liquid chemical extinguishers were recharged; the work of installing new pipes and radiators in place of pipes was completed, and the control of the heating was otherwise improved.

Other Improvements.

Other improvements and changes made at the City Home were a new kitchen range provided, inmates' quarters were being repainted; and a new garage was built.

The report stated that the number of beds was 50 and the number of occupants at the City Home 34. The normal bed capacity is much greater than 50. Since the last inspection there had been 14 admissions, 13 discharged and three deaths. One of these deaths could be counted as a discharge as it occurred in a hospital. Three inmates now in outside hospitals are not as yet discharged, as they may return, so the present census may be considered to be 37.

General Plant Conditions.

The property contains 64 acres, of which about 40 are tillable, and about 15 usually under cultivation. Gardens, orchards and pasturage are of due proportions.

There are two horses, two cows, nine pigs and about 120 chickens. Farm buildings and out-buildings are adequate and substantial.

The location is elevated and the grounds and environment are pleasant.

The main building is a long structure of brick, built in 1873. It is in good condition except for some of the hardwood flooring, and is generally suitable in design and equipment. The exterior appearance would be improved by verandas for inmates which would supply a legitimate need, especially as the sitting rooms for inmates are too small. A combination fireproof veranda and fire escape at the west end is suggested. Means of egress in case of fire are considered adequate and have not been criticized in these reports in recent years. In each wing is a fireproof stairway, but the one in the west wing is not at the far end of the wing. At that end a two story fireproof veranda and fire escape would be satisfactory.

There are two municipal hydrants on the grounds. Water pressure, at this elevation, is only about 42 pounds. The nearest engine house is half a mile away. Two call boxes are provided. There are eight liquid chemical extinguishers, recharged January 3, 1924.

No hospital or infirmary facilities are provided at the Home, and no nurse is employed. Patients are cared for in outside hospitals without restrictions as to admission, yet chronic cases cannot be left indefinitely in general hospitals. There is room in this Home to provide special wards for such cases.

General Administrative Conditions. The alms board meets at the Home once a month. Inspections are made by the State Charities Aid Association. The resident staff: Superintendent, Thomas H. Edmonston; clerk, Mrs. T. H. Edmonston; matron, Mrs. Phoebe McLean; engineer, Clarence Rowe; farmer, Saw Smith; inmates' cooks, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson; cleaner, Lydia Bush.

Mrs. Johnson does the cooking for the employees and inmates; her husband helps. The matron looks after the women inmates. A male inmate acts as men's attendant, with the direction and help of the superintendent, who, besides having charge of the home administers outdoor relief for the city.

Some of the inmates are quite helpless; seven women and two men had their meals carried to them. One of the city physicians, Dr. Walter B. Hasbrouck, comes at least once a week. He signs a register, but leaves no record of cases. It is the practice to send to hospitals all cases more serious than a cold, yet since the last inspection two inmates died at the home—one of old age, and the other, admitted two weeks before his death, of kidney trouble.

The doctor's register shows from four to thirteen visits a month, the latter in March 1923, when grippe was prevalent.

Meals Served.

Meals served on day of inspection: Breakfast: rolled oats, milk, sugar, fried potato, bread, butter (oleo), coffee.

Dinner: boiled beef, gravy, boiled potato, sauerkraut with pork, bread, oleo and tea.

Supper: bread, oleo, tea, sauerkraut for men, applesauce for women. The supper was eaten by the inmates, and was very good.

The breakfasts are varied by four cereals in regular rotation. Whole milk is served exclusively.

Monday.

Dinner: boiled beef, potato, gravy, parsnips, bread, etc.

Sunday.

Dinner at 3 p. m.; frankfurters, boiled potato, baked beans, bread pudding, bread, oleo and tea.

No supper. A lunch of crackers and tea is available at 11:30 a. m. Saturday.

Dinner: pork and cabbage, boiled beef and potato, bread, etc.

Supper: applesauce, graham crackers, bread, oleo and tea.

Friday.
Dinner: creamed codfish, potato, beefs, bread, oleo, etc.

Supper: fish hash, bread, oleo and tea.

Thursday.
Dinner: beef stew with two vegetables, potato, bread, oleo and tea.

Supper: stewed prunes, bread, oleo and tea.

Wednesday.
Dinner: string beans, beef gravy, potato, bread, oleo and tea.

Supper: applesauce, bread, oleo and tea.

These meals follow no schedule. Friday dinners are varied with three kinds of fish. Meat is purchased in small quantities as needed; beef, pork, ham and lamb are provided.

Bakers bread is used; it is delivered fresh daily. Butter substitute is served with all meals. Molasses is on the tables at supper. The dietary seems varied and well balanced.

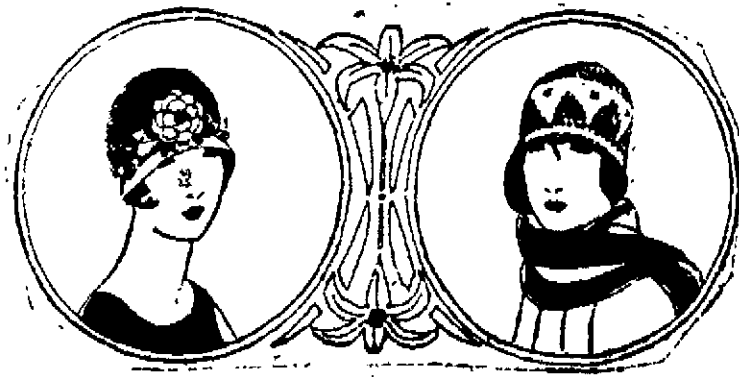

As to sanitation and hygiene and other administrative features pertaining to up-keep of plant and care of inmates, conditions appeared very good. Reading matter is supplied. Religious services and music are provided on Sundays. Inmates are kindly treated. Clothing, beds and bedding are comfortable and adequate. Laundry equipment is complete but sheets are not being run through the mangle.

A summary of principal needs and defects: a combination fire escape and veranda for the use of inmates is advised.

OLIVE BRIDGE.
Olive Bridge, March 27.—A three act play entitled "An Old Fashioned Mother," will be presented by the Young People's Society C. E. of Hurley in the I. O. O. F. Hall on Friday evening, April 4th, commencing at 8 o'clock. After the play supper will be served by the ladies of the Tongore M. E. Church.

U. S. EXPERIMENTS AID TEXAS CATTLE RAISERS

Tests Made by Bureau of Animal Industry Also Help Human Suffering.

Experiments by the bureau of animal industry at Washington have resulted in the prevention of suffering by millions of animals and human beings, according to Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau, who maintains that the comfort of animals has been increased by experiments.

"Because in certain experimental work it is necessary to use live animals the United States Department of Agriculture has on various occasions been accused of practicing unnecessary cruelty. Such accusations are without reasonable foundation," says Dr. Mohler.

"In carrying on experimental work, particularly that which has for its object the control of disease, it is necessary to use a few animals, but in most cases the suffering of the subjects is negligible if there is any at all. If the objects had had their way the suffering among animals and human beings from many causes would now be infinitely greater than it is. A few examples should make this clear to those who wish to see."

"Previous to 1906 the cattle of our Southern states, an area comprising about 750,000 square miles, were affected with Texas fever, a disease which annually killed large numbers and which so sickened the others that they became poor and were relatively unprofitable as producers of meat or milk. Scientists of the department by the use of a few cattle discovered that the disease was carried from animal to animal by the blood-sucking cattle tick, and the natural conclusion was that the eradication of the tick would mean the disappearance of Texas fever. This proved to be the case."

"The department almost immediately undertook the stupendous task of cleaning out the tick from the herds of the South, and already nearly three-fourths of the vast territory has been cleared of it by dipping the cattle at certain intervals in an arsenical solution and keeping them off infested pastures until the ticks there have died. As a result millions of cattle have been permitted to live in health and comfort and to provide wholesome food."

Woman Representative to Aid Post Office Workers

To aid employees in their wage fight, Mary V. Halas, president of the Women's auxiliary of the National Federation of Post Office Employees, and Thomas H. Flaherty, present a petition to Mrs. Nolan for higher wages. The petition is signed by the wives of 35,000 members of the federation. Mrs. Nolan is chairman of the house committee on expenditures in the Post Office department.

U. S. Ships Planes for World-Encircling Flight

Fifteen complete Liberty airplane engines are in shipment to Alaska and Far Eastern points as emergency equipment for the four United States army airplanes to leave Santa Monica, Cal., soon for a world-encircling flight, according to officials at Clover field there. Three will be shipped to points in Alaska—one to Sitka, one to Dutch Harbor and the third to Chiragoff, a small fishing settlement on Attu Island.

The other twelve engines are on their way to Amoy, Yokohama and Nagasaki, Japan; Shanghai, China; Saigon, French Indo-China, and Calcutta, India.

Many Beauty Experts Seek Jobs on Liner

Since the Leviathan went into dry dock at South Boston more than 300 manicurists, wrinkle experts, hair dressers, pedicurists and other types of exterior decorators have applied for employment aboard the ship.

James E. Prentiss, general manager of the United States Lines, believes that the applications are the result of rumors that only millionaires travel by the Leviathan. He says the vessel carries only four official manicurists, three hair dressers and has no billets for wrinkle ironers or foot specialists.

germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to serious complications.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., At-

Two Boys Are Found

At Exchange Hotel, Saugerties, Wednesday Evening.—On Way to Syracuse—Walking From Mt. Vernon.

Two young boys, Benjamin Furr
and Henry Lesofsky of Mt. Vernon,
N. Y., between 14 and 15, told police Justice Clyde F. Gardiner in police court, Saugerties, Wednesday evening, that they were on their way to Syracuse to see the championship basketball game played at that place, and they had started out Wednesday morning, walking, received a "hitch" as far as Newburgh, N. Y., walked a short distance and received another so called "hitch" to Kingston, and walked the rest of the way to Sau-gerties. When they tried to get a room at the Exchange Hotel, Main street, Saugerties, stating they did not have any money, the proprietor, Victor L. Reynolds, who noted them being very young and having no baggage and not being accompanied by a guardian, turned them over to the police authorities. Police Justice Gardiner telephoned the boys' parents in Mt. Vernon, stating the circumstances and to wire sufficient funds for the boys' return and hotel expenses. The boys were later taken to the Exchange Hotel where they were comfortably kept for the night in charge of Victor L. Reynolds, proprietor, former sheriff. Thursday morning they were placed on the New York Central bound for Mount Vernon.

MILADY IN READINESS FOR APRIL SHOWERS.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

The lion-and-lamb-like attributes of March make it worth while being prepared for all sorts of conditions of weather, even for a rainy day.
We may know enough to come in out of the wet, but we may not always be able to do it, especially for April.
Umbrellas have graduated from the strictly utilitarian, and are now a decorative feature, bright in tone and artistic, even though chubbier as to handle. Some handles are as highly Oriental as our Mah Jongg sets, but no matter how Chinese they are, curiously enough they are French to their last rib.

In raincoats, rubberized and patented waterproof cloths have gone down in defeat before spongy woolens and novelty ribbed cloths, which are popular rain or shine. The top-coat which buttons in a straight uncompromising line from chin to ankle, commands itself for rainy day wear.

Coats which have survived with one button, or two at the most, and lately none at all, suddenly find themselves boasting of long rows of them. A gray unfinished worsted with side seams, fitted shoulders and a straight unbelted back, set buttons as large as a half dollar, set closely together, down the entire length of the coat with corresponding buttonholes. Open or closed, the coat had distinction. Buttons continue to be one of the most approved forms of trimming for either dresses, coats or suits, some of the later being double breasted.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Janine

The "infallible law of supply and demand" does fall once in a while, the experts to the contrary. Look at the supply of free advice running loose in this country, with practically no demand for it at all.

Fate always strikes while the irony is hot.

You can say one thing for henpeckery. Husbands under a thumb are seldom under indictment.

May lost her little cow
It filled her with much grief.
For everywhere that May went
She could not find her beef.

"Our names are Fiebi: He's Artie and I'm Benie."

One advantage of a woman in wearing overalls around home is that peddlers will think she is the hired man.

I was awfully embarrassed this morning. I got a block from home before I noticed that I still had on bedroom slippers.

What did you do?

I had to limp all the way home.

There is this advantage in using a street car, when you leave it, you don't have to worry about parking it.

The man who used to live where the snow fell fluently and drifted deep, says "It is a case of real love, if he is thrilled when he sees her in galoshes."

Men die of broken bank accounts;
women of broken hearts.

Mike: Do you think you'll get all that dirt back in the hole?

Pat: No, I guess not. I don't think I've dug it deep enough.

"Wonder if the fellow who leads a double life thinks he lives twice as long."

The novice at trout-fishing had hooked a very small trout and had wound it in, until it was jammed at the very end of his rod.

Pupil: What do I do now I've finished winding.

Instructor: Climb up the rod and stab it.

Some people think that looking over the tops of eye glasses will keep them from wearing out.

Barber—Does that suit you, sir?
Absent-minded Prof.—You have cut it altogether too short—a little longer please.

Don't hit a man when he's down
unless you can keep him down.

James—I've known her since she was a child.

James—But I thought you only met her last year.

James—That's right. But she was wearing short skirts then.

Smile a little, play a little, sing a little gaily;
Help a little, love a little, pray a little, daily.

We couldn't be hearing much more about old King Tutankhamen if he were getting ready to come to America on a lecture tour.

BRIDE WATCHED HUSBAND KILL FOR MONEY.

Greed for money caused Harry Fenton, 21 years old, to murder his landlady, Mrs. Mary Coleman, 60, in her home in New York City, while his 15-year-old bride of a few days, Mary Fenton, looked on. Then he fired the house and made it appear she was burned to death. Later Mrs.
Fenton became seriously stricken and confessed. They thought the woman had $5,000 in the house. All Fenton got was $15. Both he and his wife joked to the police as they confessed. At Mrs. Coleman's funeral Fenton and Mrs. Fenton consoled Sister Mary Phillips, a nun, the dead woman's sister, and took her to dinner. Thinking they were her sister's best friends, the religious woman presented them with their victim's furniture.

ODD RACE LIVES IN UNDERGROUND CAVES

Troglodytes of North Africa
Antedate the Arabs.

London.—A strange people, living in holes in the ground, descendants of a race so far antedating the Arabs in North Africa that its origin is lost in antiquity were found by Horace D. Ashton, a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society and a member of the Explorers' Club, during his travels a year ago into the unfrequented localities of Africa a few hundred miles south of the Mediterranean coast. Mr. Ashton calls these people the Troglodytes, a word meaning cave dwellers, of Southern Tunisia. Their headquarters is in a section 300 miles south of the site of ancient Carthage, in the hills known as the Matmata plateau.

"There are practically 80,000 of these cave dwellers," says Mr. Ashton in describing some of their peculiarities in the travel bulletin issued by the French government tourist office at 842 Madison Avenue. "No doubt, 2,000 years ago they were living a pastoral life in tents at the foothills, but the armies of the Caesars, after conquering Carthage, swept south and menaced them so that they took refuge in the rocky hilltops, where they dug themselves in between layers of rock. Today most of them live just as the invaders left them, as these refuge caves solved a great problem in house construction in a place where there is practically no wood. Utilizing one stratum of hard rock as a floor and the one above as a ceiling, they dig chambers into the comparatively soft marl between, whose dimensions are about 20 feet long, 8 feet wide and with ceilings forming a perfect arch 8 feet high, the whole finished with a crude cement and then whitewashed."

No Furniture in Homes.

Many of the houses, according to Mr. Ashton, contain several chambers, some opening from the main room, but often with independent entrances, except in the case of the harems, or women's quarters. Furniture is virtually absent. The bed is really a platform or shelf in the far end of the room, about three feet above the level of the floor. In only one house did Mr. Ashton see a table, and that was in the home of Sheikh Mohammed Lafet of Dyrat. He had a plain table, upon which were his papers and some photographs sent by former visitors.

Along the side walls of the occupied rooms are divans, upon which the occupants sit, as there are no chairs. In the women's quarters will be found looms and earthen bowls in which the native dishes are prepared. There are also many huge jars filled with olive oil, dates, figs and other staple foods. "As the various towns are usually dug into the conical hills, composed of a succession of strata sometimes rising to a height of 1,000 feet," says Mr. Ashton, "the streets are arranged like terraces or huge steps, culminating in a citadel on the summit, which served as a storehouse and place of refuge in the frequent wars which prevailed until the coming of the pacifying French influence. Looking out from one of these citadels toward the opposite mountains, the view greatly resembles that of the region of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, as the erosion and coloring are much the same."

Cave Town of Matmata.

"Sixty miles south of the cave town of Medenine is the strangest place of all, that of Matmata. While the inhabitants appear to be of similar race, their houses are great wells, which dot the valley as far as the eye can see. Surrounded on all sides by low mountains, on top of the loftiest of which can be seen their ancient fortresses and citadels, the valley of Matmata covers more than three square miles. It presents to the eye of the stranger a most astonishing sight, for the whole floor of the valley is dotted with the openings of huge circular wells, about 60 or 70 feet in diameter, open to the sky and about 30 feet deep.

"In all the valley there are only three buildings, and they have only recently been built by the French—a school, a mosque and a market. Yet in this valley are said to dwell more than 12,000 souls without a single tent or house as we know the word.

"Their strange subterranean homes are entered through dark, sloping tunnels, usually branching off into small stables on the way, and opening finally into a circular courtyard, 30 feet below the level, around the vertical sides of which are dug the rooms of the occupants.

"Some of these dwellings are quite spacious, often consisting of a series of wells, entered from the first by connecting passages. These wells are the harems or dwellings of married sons or relatives. Here in Matmata there has sprung up of necessity a distinct code of etiquette, which forbids the approach of any one to the upper edge of one of these wells, for these people are all Moslems and are extremely fanatical, guarding very strictly their women from the gaze of all men."

Admits He Stole Kiss From Girl Nine Years Ago

Goshen, N. Y.—"Did you ever commit a crime?" asked Justice Seeger when Joseph Pelermer applied for naturalization. "Nine years ago," the man sobbed. "I stole—"

"Tell the truth, my man," the judge cautioned.

"I stole," said the poor man, "I stole a kiss from a girl nine years ago."

Joseph was naturalized.

Gray Whipcord Cloth and Henna Embroidery

This charming new overblouse suit for spring shows a gray whipcord with embroidery of henna and gold thread.

Notes of the Mode to Aid in Choosing Garb

Hand-embroidered organdie in pastel colors fashions some of the loveliest frocks.

Moire ribbon in different widths is a favored trimming noted on several spring suits.

As pretty as they are practical are sports blouses of flannel in bright and pastel colors.

Silk broadcloth in wide Roman stripes is chosen for the fashioning of sports dresses.

Very narrow Chinese ribbons are used with most effective results as trimming for sports hats.

Short coats of white crepe are embroidered all over in black silk. The sleeves are long and loose.

Black bangles decorated with Egyptian figures in white have a small loop to hold the popular chiffon handkerchiefs. Others still more colorful are of Chinese blue, with yellow figures.

Extremely long and wide are hand-painted scarfs of white silk. The colors in the various designs are beautifully blended and the ends are finished with long fringes of white silk.

The new tub silks are fresh and charming. Small plaids and narrow stripes keep the effect inconspicuous. The silks come in many colors and patterns and are inexpensive.

A white crepe de chine dress is embroidered with a small all-over design in bright colored silks. The dress is sleeveless and beltless and around the skirt are two wide folds of white crepe de chine that open at the left side. The contrast between the plain and the embroidered silk is very attractive.

Attractive Overblouse With Short Sleeves

Quite attractive for afternoon wear is an overblouse with short sleeves, like the bertha cut in one with the blouse, giving it the air of a complete frock. The edge of the sleeves, two bands of the embroidery down the front and a giraffe are all embroidered with gold and green beads on the beige crepe background.

Allover tucked blouses are also used, tucked perpendicular and sometimes edged with a pipet; or, again, in the same effect with ribbon sewed only at one side, the idea copied probably from a model gown very popular last season. Crimped ribbon—or, as the French call it, cranté—is another manner of trimming seen in the georgette models.

A green suede cloth model has cut-out motifs, with yellow gold taffeta lining showing through the spaces. The fronts of the blouse are fastened at the neck line and at the bottom, only allowing a narrow strip of lining to show between. One large motif is used on each sleeve and at the bottom of the waist in front.

Except in the more elaborate of the overblouses the sleeves are long, and even in some of the satin models the length is retained. A number of these sleeves are gathered into a narrow wristband, giving a loose, easy line above, and a few are cut sharply off from the wristband or turnback cuff into a point and attain practically the same effect.

Pale Yellow and Green Among Spring Colors

Pale yellow, green in a wide range of tones and all shades of pink and rose are the colors chosen again and again for lovely frocks of chiffon that as the season advances will supplant the more formal velvets and broads.

They possess a springtime freshness and daintiness that is most appealing. Especially lovely are models that exploit a clever combination of two or three shades of a single color. One unusually beautiful frock has three hues, each a different tone of rose.

The Same Girl

"What is your reason for proposing to me again after I refused you so emphatically?" inquired Miss Cayenne. "My mistake," replied the young man. "Since you hopped your hair and put on knickerbockers I did not know whether you were the same girl."

..... If he sees her grow careless, he begins to feel discontented

The Discontented Husband

A MAN can't help comparing his wife with his best girl—meaning, in this case, his wife before he married her. And if he sees her grow careless of those charms which first attracted him, he begins to feel discontented.

One of these charms is a woman's smooth and clear complexioned hands. She need not lose this feminine charm, no matter how much cleaning and washing a married woman has to do. For red, rough, and coarse looking hands result from the use of ordinary household soap which irritates the skin.

INTELLIGENT housewives everywhere insist on Kirkman's Soap—for every household purpose—because it is as harmless to the hands as is the most exquisite toilet soap.

They know that Kirkman's Soap, being free from irritating lye, will not harm the skin or injure the most delicate fabrics. It is made of the purest materials. It contains absolutely no adulterants such as starch, talc, or water-glass, which have no cleansing value.

For the sake of your hands, always insist upon Kirkman's Soap.

As Easy to Wear, and Easier to Buy

At the new reduced prices for the Spring Season, the Cantilever Shoe has the same comfort and quality that have made it so easy and so pleasurable to wear. The lower cost will make it easier to buy.

The Cantilever Shoe has many practical uses. For walking, it is supreme. For strengthening weak arches, it is recommended by doctors because of its flexibility. For duty, it helps one to accomplish more with less fatigue. For dress it gives that neat and stylish appearance which every woman wants.

Each purpose of the Cantilever Shoe, each of its rather exceptional qualities, has a reason for being. If you will come to our store, we will demonstrate and explain these points very gladly. There is no obligation to purchase, but you should be ready to buy a new pair of spring shoes, we will fit you conscientiously. Quality and service considered, the lower prices result in Cantilevers being as economical as they always have been comfortable.

ASTRONOMERS FIND ANOTHER UNIVERSE

Add 700,000 Light Years to
"nearest Known Distance."

The growth in the known size of the universe which began when Galileo devised his small, low-powered telescope has just received another startling increment at the hands of the astronomers of the Harvard observatory.

This time a new and distinct universe has been found, and its great distance adds a matter of 700,000 light years, or about four quintillions of miles, to the greatest known distance to anything in existence.

Man still continues to diminish in relation to the general plan of things. The new universe is so far away that the rays of light which reach us after traveling through empty space at a rate that would carry them twelve times around the earth in one second have been journeying from the newly discovered universe to the photographic plate of the Mount Wilson telescope ever since the earliest known type of man, the apeman of Java, began evolving from his altogether simian ancestor nearly a million years ago. One cannot grasp its significance, even dimly.

Stars have names, but so far astronomers have had to do without names for universes. "N. G. C. 6522" has been known for many years, but pictures of it made by the 100-inch reflecting telescope at Mount Wilson (Cal.) observatory have now resolved it into a complete universe of suns, like our own stellar universe of suns, or "stars." Whether there are also planets or "worlds" cannot be said, because at these immense distances they would not be visible.

In fact, "N. G. C. 6522" itself is wholly invisible to the naked eye. It lies in the constellation known as Sagittarius, the Archer, and is itself too close to the sun at this time of year to be visible.

Visible from the southern hemisphere are the Magellanic clouds, which are now known to be stellar systems wholly separate from our own and from the Milky Way. In apparent magnitude "N. G. C. 6522" is very much smaller than the Magellanic clouds, but the great difference in size is only apparent, for it is vastly farther away. In other respects it is similar.

It is a universe, distinct and isolated in space by distances which, when compared with those between the earth and other objects in our own universe, such as, for instance, the distance to the nearest fixed star (some 200,000 times as far as from the sun to the earth), are even then almost incomparable.

The mind reels. It has been said that nothing so greatly influences to a belief in religion as the study of astronomy.—Outlook.

California Cork Trees

It is said that within the past decade cork culture has shown promise of becoming one of the important industries of California. A considerable acreage of Spanish cork oak is now in cultivation at the forest plantation owned by the University of California, and all of the trees are, it is said, thriving and growing vigorously. On the elder trees there is a good growth of young bark, some of it more than an inch in thickness.

Most of the trees are now about seven years old and are from twenty-five to thirty feet in height and from eight to ten inches in diameter at the butt. This culture has been made in ordinary soil. Both the climate and soil seem very favorable to the growth of the Spanish cork oak.

This is the first time that any attempt has been made to grow cork in California and the experiment seems to have been worth making.

A Serious Case

A notoriously absent-minded man was observed walking down the street with one foot continually in the gutter, the other on the pavement. A friend meeting him said: "Good evening. How are you?"

"Well," replied the absent-minded one. "I thought I was very well when I left home, but now I don't know what's the matter with me. I've been limping for the last half hour."

Where Is Florence?

An old colored woman came up to the ticket window at a big railway station and addressed the agent. "I want a ticket to Florence," she said. The ticket agent spent some minutes turning over railway guides, apparently with no success, and then asked:

"Where is Florence?"

"Settin' over dar on de bench," replied the colored woman.—Every-body's Magazine.

Diseased

A young doctor said to the girl of his choice, "Do you know, dear, I have a heart affection for you?"

"Have you had it long?" she coyly inquired.

"Oh, yes. I feel that I will live a troubled life without you," he fervently responded.

"Then you had better asthma," she laughed softly.

Faithless

Lady—Why, have you no faith in me?

Tramp—No, mum, I ain't. If you have faith in yourself, other folks won't. Don't expect other folks to have in you what you ain't got yourself.

Not So Bad

His Worship—"I must really make an example of you—you are here so often." Prisoner—"Don't be too hard on me, guv'nor; you ain't had any trouble with me for eighteen months. Why, I only came out this morning!"—Pearson's Weekly (London).

Thieves Take Carpets From Two Churches

Thieves stole the carpets from the floors of the Reformed and Lutheran churches, at Mainland, Pa. Nothing else was touched. The thefts were discovered when worshippers gathered in the churches for service.

MAN THOUGHT DEAD IS HELD AS OUTLAW

Faked Death to Fool Officers of the Law.

Tokyo.—In a little cemetery near Misuho, Japan, is a grave and tombstone erected in memory of a former chief of the village, a man known far and wide for his kindness and generosity. In jail at Tokyo is the man—held as the leader of a gang of crooks. What the grave holds no one knows.

Nine years ago the man, Issaku Kawashima, was arrested and sentenced to prison for being the leader of a band of robbers. Kawashima appealed the case. Then he died suddenly. His family buried him with great pomp and erected a handsome tombstone in his honor. Scores of neighbors and friends attended the funeral.

Recently it was reported that a strange visitor was seen going into the Kawashima home. Police spread a net about the house and saw the stranger entering. They rushed inside and found the man—none other than the dead Kawashima.

The police declare they have proof that the death certificate was forged, that Kawashima was buried in disguise, and that he since has organized another band of outlaws. His frequent visits to his family proved his undoing, however.

Woman Dares Fire to Save Treasures

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Rare daring was shown by Mrs. Henry Steding, aged sixty-four, who on two occasions re-entered her burning home to save a pet or some object which she highly prized. But in the end she was pulled from the flames by her dog.

After making an attempt to subdue the fire, which started under the first floor of her house, Mrs. Steding would not leave the house until she had saved her canary. She was led from the building by Henry C. Young, 511 Montooth street, through the smoke.

After reaching safety with her bird, Mrs. Steding recalled her prize photograph. She dashed into the house with Policeman Walsh at her heels. The policeman took her back to safety.

Although she was burned about the face and hands and her eyebrows and hair were singed, again Mrs. Steding ran to the house for some treasure. But this time Teddy, her fox terrier, was watching his mistress, and before she had entered the danger zone the little dog had a good hold on her skirt. With the aid of Policeman Walsh he pulled her back to safety. Mrs. Steding will recover from her burns.

Woman Sells Baby to Bury Husband's Mother

Peking.—Poverty stricken by the long absence of her husband, a soldier, a young Chinese mother at Peking, sold her five-year-old baby for $30 so that she might provide a fitting burial for her mother-in-law. The mother had been supporting herself, her baby, and her husband's mother while the man fought in the army.

Engineer Saves Boy

Lebanon Junction, Ky.—W. R. Starke, Louisville & Nashville railroad engineer, stopped his train at Pottinger creek, near Gettysburg, and led members of the crew to the rescue of Jesse Brown, twelve, who was in danger of drowning after ice on which he had been skating had broken.

The trainmen brought the boy to safety and then made a 20-mile run to this place in their icy-wet clothes.

Kills Self After Fire

Lyndonville, Vt.—Two days after fire destroyed his store and apartment, causing the death of eight persons, Albert Stern killed himself. He was suspected of knowing something about the blaze, having been seen in the store ten minutes before the alarm was sounded.

Would Burn Corpses

Paris.—A law providing for the burning of corpses to prevent burial of living persons will be introduced in the French parliament soon by Andre Godard, a Paris scientist. One person out of every 200 is buried alive, Godard has declared.

Both Are Satisfied

Chambersburg, Pa.—Mr. and Mrs. George E. Diehl ride about in a car which is gray on one side and blue on the other.

"My wife likes gray, and I like blue, so we compromised," explained Mr. Diehl.

Baby Freezes to Death

Sioux City, Ia.—Two-months-old Lillian Widger died of the cold. The baby's hands and feet were frozen stiff. Officers found other members of the family huddled in their cold home, suffering from lack of warmth and food.

House of Commons Rule

If a new member of the British house of commons wishes to speak for the first time, he must inform his party whips, and also send a note to the speaker. Then, if he rises to make his maiden effort, he is given preference.

WHY BANKS?

LESSON VI

By J. M. PUELICHER, Chairman,
Committee on Public Education, American Bankers Association.

We hear of bank capital, surplus and stockholders. What economic services do they render the community?

BANK CAPITAL—The money necessary to engage in the business of rendering banking services to the community.

SURPLUS—A part of a bank's earnings not paid out as dividends to stockholders but reserved for possible losses or to expand activities as needed by growing business.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS—Protection to depositors, because if trouble arises, depositors must be paid in full out of these funds if necessary before stockholders are paid anything.

BANK STOCKHOLDER—Anyone able and willing to buy stock in a bank and to assume the risk of the business. A share of stock represents a fraction of ownership in the whole, and with ownership go responsibilities and liabilities. In smaller communities those who usually organize banks interest successful farmers, successful merchants and successful manufacturers because of the influence they bring

DOUBLE LIABILITY—The obligation under the law that rests on a bank stockholder, in case his bank fails and the assets are not enough to pay depositors, to pay an amount equal to his bank stock, in addition to losing his original investment. This is not the case in corporations other than banks. Example: If a man owned $1,000 in bank stock and the bank failed, and after the assets had been used, the bank still owed money to depositors, the stockholder would be required to pay up to another $1,000 if necessary to meet the obligations to depositors.

Thus it is seen that bank capital and bank stockholders perform real economic services.

Truth Stranger Than Fiction

When Uncle Sam wants to know how fast the upper winds are blowing, he looks into the heavens by means of a black mirror across whose ebony face the reflected clouds of white trail at measurable speed. Mr. A. Robinson, of the weather bureau, one of the specialists who knows more about the air above us than most men know of the city streets they walk daily, is shown in the accompanying photograph studying the mirror in an effort to learn whether the pace foretells March winds or April showers.

If the balloon is lost in two minutes, the clouds will thus be found to be 400 meters above the earth. If five minutes' time is required for the balloon to reach the clouds, their height will be established at 1,000 meters, or nearly two-thirds of a mile. Having found the height of the cloud shown on the black mirror, Mr. Robinson will follow its progress across the mirror's face, timing it meters a minute.

graph studying the mirror in an effort to learn whether the pace foretells March winds or April showers. When Mr. Robinson gets down to brass tacks in his study he will use the eye-piece shown in the illustration as an apt aid in his work. First of all, however, he will release a 30-inch hydrogen balloon. This he will watch until it is swallowed up in the cloud above. He will time the balloon carefully, knowing that it ascends at an even rate of about 200

it speeds along. There is a simple formula of mathematics which he applies in making his tests so that he knows immediately the speed at which the cloud is traveling. In that manner he learns the velocity of the wind. Checking his observation with those made elsewhere, he is enabled to foretell when the winds mean in the way of coming weather. ### Machiavelli Machiavelli was an Italian statesman, historian and man of letters (1469-1527). It is said the object of his book, "The Prince," is to show that all is fair in diplomacy. The term "Machiavellism" has come to mean political cunning and duplicity, the art of tricking and overreaching by diplomacy.

FIRST PHOTOGRAPH OF WOUNDED SENATOR

SENATOR & MRS. FRANK L. GREENE

This is the first photograph to be made of U. S. Senator Frank L. Greene, now recovering in a Washington hospital from an almost fatal bullet wound, inflicted when he crossed the path of a revenue agent who was firing wildly at supposed bootleggers in Washington. The missile passed through his head. The photograph shows his wife reading to him the latest news of the day.

WOMAN "WIZARD" WILL REVEAL ALL

The mystery in Mrs. Myrtle Bowman Hayes' trading on the name of Charles M. Schwab, multi-millionaire steel magnate, in huge financial deals, and of her spectacular career in high finance, will be bare, she asserts, on her trial in New York City on the charge of forging Schwab's name to notes aggregating $325,000. She declares she "will reveal all" and make startling allegations on the witness stand.

Flatbush, March 27.—The chicken pie supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klotz for the benefit of the church was a success.

The Y. F. S. C. E. will give an entertainment in the T. X. T. Club house on Friday evening, April 4. The entertainment will consist of sketches, male and mixed quartets, duets, solos, instrumental numbers, etc.

Peter Baisley, Sr., and daughter of Tillson have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klotz.

The following officers have been elected in the Sunday school: Mary Osterhout, superintendent; C. E. Davis, assistant superintendent; C. E. Davis, secretary and treasurer;

William Swart, assistant secretary; Florence Dummer, organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young and daughter, Mrs. Kelham, were at Paterson, N. J., Wednesday, attending the funeral of Mr. Young's brother.

The mid week prayer meetings of the church are interesting and well attended. The attendance at times is over 50.

Atmospheric Pressure

The naval observatory says atmospheric pressure at sea-level is one ton per square foot; or, more precisely, average atmospheric pressure is 2,117 pounds per square foot, but it varies continually, often reaching 15 pounds per square inch.

MR. SHOWERS

"I must admit," said Mr. Showers, "that I do like jokes. I have what is called a sense of humor, which means that I laugh when things are funny and I see things that are funny without having to wait a day or two or three to see the points of jokes."

"Of course, I think lots of things are funny which others don't think funny, but then in my opinion it is because I understand fun so well."

"True," said Mr. Snow Magic, "you even think it is fun to upset all my work."

"A great joke," said Mr. Showers, "for I get things so mixed up. I make the hard ice melt and play with the snow and I mix the snow up with some mud every once in a while and I just play all sorts of pranks and get everyone together who wouldn't be together without me."

"What would the earth be like in the springtime if it weren't for me?" "It would be stiff and hard. I make it soft and nice. Of course, the warm winds help me and Mistress Spring-time, but I see that there isn't so much stiffness, you know."

"Why the earth has the greatest way of getting so stiff and hard that it simply can't smile. And when it does try it finds itself going into hard, funny cracks, and unbending ruts which aren't in the least becoming."

"I make it more friendly."

"Well," said Mr. Snow Magic, "there is, I've heard, a lot of talk against the mud in the spring, but if you say it is friendly and nice then I suppose there is some excuse for it and the way it has of being sticky."

"Of course," said Mr. Showers, "who would want it to be anything else but soft and squishy and nice? Not I for one."

"When people walk over it then it is so friendly."

"It seems to say to them: 'Come and sink right down into me a little way so you will know how

It is so friendly.

Friendly I am and how I welcome you and how glad I am to see you.

"I am so glad to see you that even when you leave me I stick to you and go along upon your boots and your rubbers just to show my friendly spirit."

"And that is because of my work," Mr. Showers said proudly and with a happy laugh.

"Now here you have been making most wonderful things, Mr. Snow Magic."

"You've been making the loveliest of lace patterns and artistic work and beautiful decorations over everything."

"I'll admit you're an artist, but one must have jokes as well as art. And so I came along with my jokes."

"You saw through my jokes, too; you saw that you couldn't go on with your work but had to listen to my jokes."

"True," said Mr. Snow Magic. "But tell me, Mr. Showers, why did you come around now? You're not due for a month or so anyway."

"Here you are way ahead of time."

"One of my jokes," said Mr. Showers. "They didn't expect me and so I came. A surprise, you know. And I played jokes on people. They thought it was going to be a nice wintry day and I came along and my family helping me—the Shower Sisters are such jolly, laughing girls—and I gave the people showers such as they usually expect in the spring or summer."

"And I played joke upon you upon them! It was such fun."

"But I must go on and play more pranks now. I must sing a song though before I go."

So Mr. Showers sang this song:

They didn't think I'd be coming,
But here I am, you see,
And so their thoughts didn't matter
When here I seemed to be.

They didn't think I'd be coming,
But I was up to some fun,
And the greatest joke of all
I played on old Mr. Sun.

WHAT TO SERVE FOR DINNER

Chicken served in the ordinary manner may become monotonous; try the following:

Chicken en Casserole.—Dis-joint a chicken and roll in seasoned flour, then saute in hot fat until well browned on all sides. Cut a carrot into even slices, add one onion for each person served. Cut out a dozen potato balls. Cook the vegetables in a little fat until they are slightly browned, then arrange the chicken and vegetables in the casserole. With the giblets, neck and wing tips make a broth by covering with cold water, pour this while hot over the chicken, season well, cover and let cook in the oven until the chicken is tender. It will take about two hours. The broth should be prepared before the chicken is ready to cook.

Oysters With Macaroni.—Cook three-fourths of a cupful of macaroni broken into inch pieces until tender. Scald one pint of oysters. Put a layer of buttered crumbs, one of cooked macaroni and a layer of cheese, using a half cupful of crumbs and three-fourths of a cupful of cheese, salt, pepper and the oyster liquor. Repeat until all the ingredients are used. Cover with buttered crumbs. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

Baked Eggplant.—Pare, cut into cubes and cook until tender in boiling water a small eggplant. It will take from ten to twenty minutes. Drain in a colander. For three cupfuls of cubes, chop fine one small onion, add one-half cupful of mushrooms and cook in two tablespoonfuls of fat; then add the eggplant, a cupful of tomato strained, bread crumbs, parsley and salt and paprika. Place in a baking dish, cover with buttered crumbs and bake until brown.

Tea Cakes.—Bake a plain cake recipe in gem pans. Cut open, scoop out the centers and fill with sweetened and flavored whipped cream. Fruit may be used in place of the cream if desired. Top with whipped cream.

Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, and Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, U. S. N., are two of three members selected by President Coolidge to make a survey of oil-land conditions, to determine how the petroleum deposits of the United States and Alaska can best be conserved. Because of threats against his life, alleged to have been made by radical elements who dislike his conservatism, an armed guard has been assigned to protect J. H. Thomas, Laborite Secretary for the Colonies in the British Labor Ministry in Great Britain because it contained three Lords and was adding others. A temporary advantage, which may result in great financial gain to her, was won in New York City by Mrs. Beulah Edmonston Croker, Indian widow of Richard Croker, former head of Tammany Hall, who died on his Irish estate, in her fight against claims of Croker's sons and daughters by his first wife. Ruth B. Sparza, a girl of humble parentage from Guanajuato, Mexico, has enrolled at the Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill., to fit herself for teaching the illiterate children of her native country.

SAFETY OF SHIPS UP TO U. S. AGENCY

Work of Coast and Geodetic Survey Outlined

"The recent groundings of the world's two biggest ocean liners, the Leviathan and the Majestic, show how essential to the safety of the world's shipping is an intimate knowledge of the complicated tidal and current fluctuations of the world's great harbors," says a bulletin of the National Geographic society, issued from its Washington (D. C.), headquarters, "and emphasizes the importance of one of the phases of the work of the United States coast and geodetic survey."

"New York harbor is not a single waterway, but a series of communicating ones, with two entrances from the sea. A territory larger than Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island together, drains into the Atlantic through three bays, four straits, and one great and several small tidal rivers. The fresh water from this large area complicates the problem of giving the navigator definite data as to flood and ebb and current so that he may safely maneuver his craft at all times."

Aids Navigation and Sewage.
"The United States coast and geodetic survey has given navigators a definite picture of the conditions they must meet in berthing their great liners; to what engineers the information necessary to the proper arrangement of docking facilities; and to sanitary engineers new and basic data that has an important bearing on the problem of sewage disposal."

"Working quietly on the great fundamental problems of navigation, the coast and geodetic survey doesn't make much copy, and the world at large hears comparatively little of one of the most highly technical of the scientific bureaus of the United States government."

"And yet every ship that sails the seas, every passenger that comes into port, every article on the supercargo, manifest are served in a very concrete, it is unsuspected, way by the survey."

Two things the navigator must have if he is to bring his craft with its human and material cargo safely into port—a knowledge of the tricks of the compass and a picture of channel and harbor conditions.
Vagaries of a Compass Needle.
"The needle of the mariner's compass has been shown to be as full of vagaries as mid-March weather. Men used to think that it could always be depended upon to point to the magnetic pole. But local affinities distract it from its proper affection in ways that are sometimes startling. If the sailor has a sweetheart in every port, the magnetic needle has a secondary attraction in many quarters. Looking at a magnetic declination chart we see deeply waved curves which proclaim loudly the influence of these affinities in wearing the needle away from the 'straight and narrow' of its true direction. Magnetic surveys on the sea in general and along the coast in particular, are a supreme necessity in the accurate guidance of ships over the trackless ocean and into the world's ports."

"Examining the line of the 15 degree west declination we find it sweeping over the sea in a northwesterly direction, with comparatively small variations from normalcy until it approaches the north shore of Massachusetts. There it swings radically to the west, and as land is reached swings back until it points almost due northeast at more than a right angle to its recent position as it rounds the Cape Ann peninsula."

Goes on 'Spree' in New York.
"The same condition obtains in the 10 degree west declination which sweeps over the Atlantic toward New York. Approaching the waters between Long Island and Sandy Hook the needle adheres closely to its proper direction. But when it reaches the Hudson river it is pulled around until it seems to forget all about its fundamental affection and goes on a lark that causes it to swing around through almost or quite a quarter circle from its accustomed position."

"No wonder a magnetic survey is needed to warn the mariner of the vagaries of the magnetic needle when it permits itself to fall so fully under the spell of the Great White way that it wanders 90 degrees away from its path of solar duty."

"The need of more thorough soundings in harbors and on rocky coast-grows greater as the volume and complexity of shipping grows and the size of craft increases."

"Soundings made with lead lines can be depended on to discover the main underwater elevations, but the waters off the New England shores, the Pacific shores and Washington abound in pinacle rocks—Washington monuments of the sea. They rise to sharp points almost to the surface, which deflect a lead line, even though the lead may, on a slender chance, land on top of them."

"Thus it came to be that they passed undiscovered and uncharted until some ship chanced to run afoul of one of them, as the U. S. cruiser Brooklyn did in the harbor of New Bedford, Mass."

How Wire Drag Is Used
"Latterly a wire drag has been evolved. It is stretched between two launches or other boats which run parallel to one another anywhere from 100 to 25,000 feet apart."

"The lower wire sweeps through the water at a depth well below the keels of ships of the deepest drafts and any obstacle that rises above that depth is readily detected. A shipping of immense volume moves through the pinacle and boulder-infested waters of the New England coast and the survey is working aggressively with the limited funds at its disposal to finish its sweeping of these waters and to discover all such obstructions to navigation before they register their presence by tearing holes into the hulls of hapless liners."

"Mad banks and sand bars must also be watched carefully; for the unceasing attack by winds, waves, and currents upon the shore cause, particularly in stormy weather, the water to be converted into a sort of huge mill in which the material wrested loose from its position is ground to sand and deposited elsewhere, filling up channels and obstructing navigation generally."

"Automobiles and motor-boats have made heretofore inaccessible shores teem with the activities of civilization, and now knowledge of the laws of such shore evolution must be mastered and remedies found for conditions of erosion that menace life and property in the seaside communities."

"And so it happens that the coast and geodetic survey under the direction of Col. E. Lester Jones, must ever be on the alert to protect shipping from the perils of demoralized magnetic needles and changing shallow water conditions."

Hound Loses Paw After Being Caught in Trap

Betty, a blue ribbon foxhound owned by James Wright of North Andover, Mass., will wear a cork leg for the remainder of her days. Her right forepaw was amputated by Dr. William H. Zimlins, city veterinarian, to save the animal's life from blood poison, caused by being caught in a fox trap a few days ago.

For two days and nights, with temperature from 12 to 18 degrees below zero, Betty suffered in the trap, and when found the injured foot was frozen. Her father, Sport, lost his life two years ago while on the trail by falling into an abandoned cellar. When found 15 days later, he was dead.

Rats Tunnel Fairways of Potomac Park Links

Rats burrowing through the earth under the East Potomac park golf course at Washington have made so many depressions in the grassy fairways that 1,000 cubic yards of soil were used in filling the holes, S. G. Loeffler, Jr., who is in charge of the course, said recently. Replacing of the turf has been necessitated in many places, especially near the Washington channel side of the course, he said.

It had been planned, Mr. Loeffler said, to reopen the course about the middle of this month, but extensive improvements and repairs will probably cause a delay.

Wills Widower $100,000 if He Remains Single

The will of Mrs. Louisa P. Johnson, probated at Philadelphia, leaves to her son-in-law, Rufus King Tennig, of Andalusia, Pa., a trust fund of $100,000 providing he does not remarry.

Mr. Tennig is fifty, and a widower, with three daughters. According to his brother, Frederick, he has no intention of remarrying.

A second trust fund of like amount is left to Mr. Tennig's daughters, who are to receive his trust fund also should he decide to remarry.

I moved West and have never repaid the loan. The enclosed check is for the amount due, plus interest."

Not Serious
"Do not be cast down," she said; "it grieves me greatly to give you so much pain." He looked up and laughed. "Don't worry," he said; "my proposal was just a freak election bet."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

New Youth

For women—new beauty for girls

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I found in France, many years ago, the supreme aids to beauty and to youth. I was a plain girl, and they made me the rage of New York. And now, after 40 years in the limelight, they keep me a beauty still. All who meet me on the stage or elsewhere marvel at my youthful bloom. I have brought the same results to many. So I know these same helps can bring millions multiplied beauty and perennial youth. Now I have arranged so all who wish may get them. And I am taking time to tell the facts about them.

My White Youth Clay
This is a white, refined clay, amazing and delightful in results. It has been perfected by 20 years of scientific study.

Many of you know what clay does. Even the crude and muddy clays so many are still using. The purge the skin of all that clogs and mars it. They bring a new complexion, rosy, clear and clean. They firm the skin, combat all lines and wrinkles, reduce the pores. You see everywhere the youth and beauty that results from clay.

But my white Youth Clay is vastly more efficient. It is the last word in facial clay. Many women, with one application, seem to drop ten years. The cost is 50 cents and $1.

My Youth Cream
My cold cream was perfected by French experts. I call it my Youth Cream. It contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster the fine texture of the skin.

I use it after the clay. Also as a night cream. Also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. It softens, whitens, feeds and smooths. My Youth Cream costs 60 cents.

I clean my skin with a liquid cleanser, called my Facial Youth. The leading beauty experts now employ it, but they charge too high a price.

My Facial Youth contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. All the refuse comes out with it, all the dirt and grime. You will never know what a clean skin means until you try Facial Youth. The cost is 75 cents.

My Hair Youth

This is another French creation. It embodies all that aids hair health and growth. My hair is my greatest glory. It is heavy, thick and lustrous. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray.

I apply Hair Youth with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It removes the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. It stimulates and fortifies. All in one minute daily, without massing the hair.

My hair shows what Hair Youth does. I would not for a fortune go without it. It comes to at little cost—50 cents and $1 with eye dropper.

All druggists and toilet counters now supply these very helps I use. They offer each under guarantee. I urge all girls and women to learn how much they mean. No other methods that I know can bring so much of added beauty or continued youth. Edna Wallace Hopper, 539 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

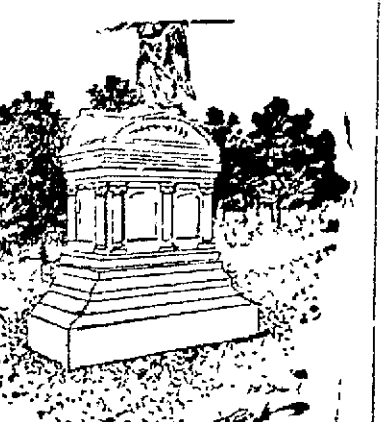

Turn gray, faded hair beautiful, dark and lustrous almost overnight. You'll get a bottle of "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually. It's a well-known drugstore remedy, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful. This is the age of youth. Gray-haired unattractive folk aren't wanted around, so get busy with Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

SPRAY and SAVE

Save Money? No. You don't spray to save money. Save Trees? That's the point. There is no material you can use as a dormant spray that will save your trees from as many pests as SCALCIDE. Used for 19 years on fruit trees the world over.

Mrs. Lawton To Speak Here

On the afternoon of Tuesday, April 8, the Kingston Garden Club will bring to Kingston Mrs. W. L. Lawton, chairman of the National Committee for Restriction of Outdoor Advertising, on State Federation fame, and chairman of the civic committee of the Glens Falls Woman's Club, who will speak on highway advertising at 3 o'clock, at St. John's Parish House on Wall Street. Mrs. Lawton will urge support of the bill prohibiting signboards in the Adirondack Park. The Kingston Garden Club asks those wishing to see this bill passed to write at once to Assemblyman Simon B. Van Wageningen and Senator Arthur H. Bouton, Albany, asking them to vote in favor of the bill. No admission charge to hear Mrs. L.

PROUD OF SON

REPRESENTATIVE THOMAS S. BUTLER of Pennsylvania

Mr. Butler, a Republican, has been a member of Congress since 1897 and is chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs. Although he has attained a position of great honor and respect in national affairs, his greatest pride is the record of his son, General Smedley Butler of the Marine Corps, who has recently cleared the city of Philadelphia of vice.

POSTAL OFFICIAL

FORMER GOVERNOR JOHN H. BARTLETT of New Hampshire

Governor Bartlett was appointed Assistant Postmaster General early in the Harding Administration. He is a capable administrator, besides being one of the finest orators in the official family at Washington.

WIFE OF LEADER

MRS. NICHOLAS LONGWORTH of Ohio

As the daughter of a former President of the United States and also as a young woman of great personal ability and charm, Alice Roosevelt Longworth has long been a popular figure at Washington. Now that her husband, Representative Nicholas Longworth, is Republican leader of the House, she has come into additional prominence as his aid and adviser. She is as proud of her husband's success as her late father's eminence.

K. H. S. Debaters At Poughkeepsie

Tonight the debating team of the local high school will take part in its first debate of the year. The opponent of the local team is as usual, Poughkeepsie High School debating team. The subject of the debate is "Resolved, That the Bok Peace Prize Plan Be Adopted as Part of the Foreign Policy of the U. S."

The local team has been hard at work for months and is well prepared for the debate. Miss Hull and Mr. Clum have spent much time coaching the team and are satisfied with the results. The members of the team and the order of speaking follows: Theodore H. Thielpape, speaker, Jeffries B. Van Wageningen, leader, Milton Katz, alternate. Clifford Meier is manager of the team. The locals have none of last year's varsity men on the team, but are nevertheless confident of victory, since all the members of the team are doing excellent work.

St. John Has Largest Drydock in the World

St. John, N. B., Canada, claims the distinction of having the largest drydock in the world. The drydock, which recently has been opened for use, measures length over all, 1,150 feet; clear width at the entrance, 125 feet, with 42 feet of water over the entrance sill at extreme high tide. "Bearing in mind that the largest vessel afloat is only 958 feet long," says a bulletin of the Canadian Pacific railway, describing the immense dock, "and that the naval authorities are generally in agreement in concluding that vessel dimensions have now reached their economic maximum, it would appear that unnecessary length is provided in the St. John drydock. However, as this dock is being provided with an intermediate sill, which will permit the whole dock to be divided into two entirely separate chambers, the inner 500 feet long and the outer 650 feet long, it will be appreciated that this length is justified in that it provides for the accommodation at one time of at least two moderately sized vessels, and still can be utilized when the occasion arises as a single docking chamber with sufficient capacity to accommodate the largest vessel afloat.

"The new drydock presages a yet enhanced importance for the Port of St. John. Already it has an important place in Canada's economic life as the principal outlet on the Atlantic coast and the busiest port of winter shipment. Its exports amount to nearly $100,000,000 per year and its imports to $50,000,000. As the terminus of two Canadian railways, with branches radiating from it, it can well and expeditiously serve the Dominion. Its touch with the United States is adequate through fine services maintained with the republic's coast ports. It has connection with practically every country of the globe through services maintained with the United Kingdom, France, Norway, Ireland, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Bermuda and many other localities."

Scientists Find Brass Safest for Saucepan

An important household question—the choice of a saucepan—has recently been investigated at the municipal laboratory of Helsingfors, Finland. Many kinds of metals and other materials are in use for the manufacture of saucepans and other cooking utensils, but owing to the solvent action of some foodstuffs it is certain that chemical salts of the materials used are absorbed to some extent by human beings.

A test was made by boiling, for three hours, two pounds of red currants in a number of saucepans of different materials, and then, by chemical analysis, finding how much of the saucepans had been dissolved in the food, says London Tit-Bits.

The best figure obtained was that for brass, which was 250 times better than enamel. Brightly polished brass cooking utensils are used on a large scale in the East. Copper, tin, nickel and aluminum vessels were all found good, but iron was found to be much more easily attacked by foodstuffs. Tin, next to polished brass, stood out as the best material for the lining of cooking utensils.

Souvenirs

Almost every tourist who visits Egypt buys a scarab from a native curio seller. In Peru the Quichua Indians, descendants of the Incas, occasionally offer for sale small golden images unearthed from the ruins, which have much value. From the days of the Spanish conquest Peru has been the Mecca of treasure seekers, some of whom have made wonderfully rich strikes. On the plain of Chimu, near Truxillo, is a great mound said to contain treasure of fabulous value. Several attempts have been made to tunnel into it, but the sand has always poured down and stopped the work of excavation.

Pigeon's Great War Work

Among the homing pigeons displayed in the recent great poultry and pigeon show in London was one that did remarkable service in the war. The Mine Sweepers' Hope, as this bird was nicknamed, repeatedly made journeys from the middle of the North sea, and on four successive Saturdays arrived in England half frozen with important dispatches, and so warned the authorities of the approach of Zeppelins.

Worship Jap Ruler

The children of Japan are taught to reverence the emperor as a semi-divine being. The present prince regent, having traveled extensively in European countries, favors more democratic practices with regard to the imperial Japanese family.

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Top: WARREN T. MCCRAY & HIRAM JOHNSON. Center: BISHOP MANNING & MRS. ASA CANDLER. Bottom: REV. DR. W. N. GUTHRIE & H. CABOT LODGE.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, is said to have visited President Coolidge with a request that he demand the resignation of Attorney-General Daugherty. Because he insisted on continuing ritualistic dances in the famous St. Mark's-in-the-Bowery Church in New York City, Rev. Dr. William Norman Guthrie has been notified by Bishop William T. Manning that his church has been cut off from Episcopal visitation and ministrations. Governor Warren T. McCray, of Indiana, has been placed on trial in Indianapolis on charges of larceny and embezzlement of $155,000 of State Board of Agriculture funds. Senator Hiram Johnson ran a neck-and-neck race with President Coolidge in the Republican Presidential primary in South Dakota. Because of his arrest of Mrs. Asa G. Candler, second wife of Atlanta's coca cola king, whom he charged with being in a "dive," Chief of Police James L. Beavers has been suspended and will be tried "for making an arrest that may result in divorce proceedings."

Girl Scout Rally Saturday

The Girl Scout troops of Stone Ridge, High Falls and Kripplebush are combining for a little rally to be held in the Grange Hall of Stone Ridge at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, March 29th. At this rally, the High Falls and Kripplebush troops will be invested with Tenderfoot pins and received into the scout organization. Mothers and fathers have been invited to witness what is one of the most impressive of the Girl Scout ceremonies—the conferment of the Tenderfoot pin, which is the introduction into scouting. Miss Margaret Hardenbergh is the captain of the Stone Ridge troop. Miss Carrie Muller of the High Falls troop and Miss Frances Muller of the Kripplebush troop. Members of the county council who will attend the rally are Mrs. George Halliday, commissioner. Mrs. Elva H. Bogart, deputy commissioner and Miss Anne Rose, county director.

CURRENT OFFERINGS

AT THE THEATRES

At the Keeney Theatre this evening and again on Saturday, "Conductor 1492," will be shown. This feature comedy stars Johnny Hines, said to be screenland's greatest purveyor of real American fun and humor. The story tells of the adventures and the search for fame and fortune by Terry O'Toole, a young Irishman, just arrived in this country.

At the Opera House this evening and on Saturday the program of vaudeville which pleased large audiences Thursday will again be staged. "Itching Palms," the comedy photoplay, will again be shown this evening and on Saturday.

At the Auditorium tonight Tom Mix in the "Lone Star Ranger." It is reported to be a real good Mix picture that never fails to thrill and entertain.

Teeming with thrills and astounding reels of romantic excitement, "The Greatest Menace," has its last showing today at the Orpheum. Also there are six acts of vaudeville. Double feature bill tomorrow, John Gilbert in "The Exiles," and "The Payroll Thief."

U. C. T. TO ELECT OFFICERS TONIGHT

The regular annual meeting of Kingston Council, No. 356, U. C. T., at which time the officers for the ensuing year will be elected, will be held this evening at Pythian Hall, Broadway and Thomas street, at 8 o'clock sharp. George H. Merike, a former Kingstonian, now of Brooklyn, who is grand promotion committeeman for New York state, will be present to talk over the coming convention, which is to be held in June at Newburgh. As this is a most important election and there are several candidates to be initiated, there will doubtless be a large turnout of the members. Refreshments will be served after the regular order of business.

When You Buy a De Forest You Have All There Is!

YOU can spend twice and three times as much for a radio receiving set and get no more than you get with a De Forest Reflex Radiophone at $150.

You can buy more tubes, a larger cabinet, more elaborate wiring. You will probably also buy the necessity for using an outdoor aerial and a ground. You will pay much more for tubes and battery upkeep.

But if you are buying the most radio miles, the clearest reception of broadcasting, the greatest number of stations, the easiest and surest operation—buy a De Forest and you have all there is.

The way to prove its supremacy is to operate a De Forest D-10 Radiophone in the same room with any other set made—no matter what its price—and select the one that works best for you.

Forget the long names and the trick circuits. Forget the multiplicity of tubes. Buy on performance.

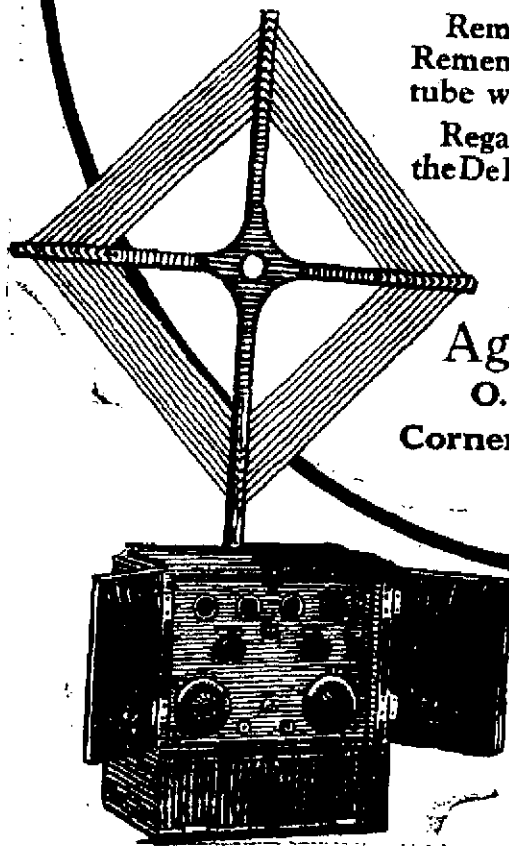

Remember that De Forest invented broadcasting. Remember that De Forest invented the vacuum tube which makes all present-day radio possible.

Regardless of price there is no better set made than the De Forest Reflex Radiophone. Prove it to yourself.

"Made By the Man Who Invented Broadcasting"

WHERE A GREAT DREAM CAME TRUE

In a recent address, Chairman John T. Adams of the Republican National Committee made this reference to the late President Harding: "He brought to reality the long-deferred dream of the world—the world-wide reduction of naval armament." Above is the home of the Pan-American Union at the national capital, in which assembled the representatives of the great powers of the world at the invitation of President Harding to reach an agreement upon naval disarmament. As a result of this momentous gathering, the navy which would otherwise still be in commission at great cost to their respective governments. The Harding disarmament agreement has been a great factor in the financial rehabilitation of the United States and its allies.

THEY CAME TO WASHINGTON TOGETHER

Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington and Congressman Gilbert N. Haugen entered Congress on the same day—March 4, 1899—and they are still there. In the above picture they are shaking hands on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their entry into official life at the national capital. Senator Jones is chairman of the Commerce Committee of the Senate, and Mr. Haugen is chairman of the great Agriculture Committee of the House. They are both Republicans, and now belong to that small group of statesmen who have served continuously in Congress for more than a quarter of a century. The group consists of eight members—four Senators and four Representatives—and seven of them are Republicans.

Traveling Cake
Sale Saturday

Girl Scout Officers, Ringing Bells,
Will Vend Their Wares to Housewives in Morning.

"Listen for the Bell" is the slogan which the Girl Scout officers are using for their unique "Traveling Cake-Sale" to be held on Saturday morning, March 29. Like the famous old "Muffin Man" of old English fame, they are going to vend their wares up and down the streets of Kingston, making their approach known by the ringing of a loud and cheery bell. Unlike the Muffin Man, however, they are not going afoot, but will travel by the more modern method of automobile.

The Girl Scout officers of Ulster county have formed an organization composed of all the captains and lieutenants of all the county troops, and in order to send a delegate from their number to the big national convention which is to be held in Chicago the week of April 28th, they have selected this original means of raising money. The cars are to be manned by officers and council members, while Scouts in uniform will act as the actual salesmen within the vehicles. Kingston housewives are asked to defer their baking until after they have heard the bell on their streets on Saturday morning, and have looked over the delectables which the Girl Scouts will have to sell. They promise that the wares will be delicious and the prices reasonable.

Mrs. George E. Halliday, of Wallkill, commissioner of the Ulster County Girl Scout Council, has called a meeting of the Executive Board for this evening at the home of Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy, second deputy commissioner. After the meeting the council expects to be able to announce definite plans concerning the summer camp which they have conducted for three years. A new camp site will be decided upon and many new features added which will make for a bigger and better Girl Scout camp than Ulster county has ever had before.

HELPED CLEVELAND WIN

MRS. HARRIET TAYLOR UPTON

This national Republican leader, whose home is in Ohio and who is chairman of the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee, was the original "booster" for the city of Cleveland when it became a candidate for selection as the Republican convention city. She kept actively at work in behalf of that city, and when Cleveland was finally selected Mrs. Upton was credited with having achieved a personal victory.

Mt. Vernon High
Five Eliminated

Lafayette High of Buffalo Just Nosed Them Out—Semi-Finals To Be Played Tonight.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Syracuse, N. Y., March 28.—With Painted Post, Port Henry, Minoa and Mount Vernon high schools eliminated as the result of the opening round in the New State basketball championship tournament last night, Lansingburg high school meets Elmira Academy and Rockville Center high takes on Lafayette high of Buffalo. The teams fought to the last second and the fortunes of the game saw-sawed back and forth until Captain Hoffman, right guard, and Hulsey, right forward, by clever passing put it on ice for the Western New Yorkers. The score was 30-21.

Other results: Elmira Free 26; Painted Post 18; Lansingburg Center 18; Port Henry 16; Rockville Center 33; Minoa 19. There will be no post season clash between the New York State title winner and Passaic High, New Jersey champions. At the request of the New Jersey school administration, the New York State league has forbidden its members, numbering 264 and have looked over the delectables which the Girl Scouts will have to sell. They promise that the wares will be delicious and the prices reasonable.

To Reveal Secret
Of "Curzyus"

"Curzyus," as mystifying or more so than ever, is still on exhibition at the R.-G.-R. store. His hours Saturday afternoon and evening will be: 2:30 to 4, 4:30 to 5, 7 to 7:30, 8 to 8:30 and 9 to 9:30. Votes may still be deposited as to what it is, and Saturday night at 9 o'clock the mystery will be exposed. If it is a machine, they will take it apart, and if it is a man or a woman, the crowd will be let in on the secret.

Copper the Unique

Copper is unique among the metals and, if permissible, we would say "big unique" at that. It is the most ancient of all the minerals, far antedating all authentic history. Excavations in Egypt have disclosed copper tools and utensils which were in use before the building of the pyramids. Its industrial importance has grown without a lapse throughout the ages until, today, it is developing more rapidly than ever. Thus, as copper has dominated the past, so it will probably dominate the future; and its complete history can never be written as both ends of the story reach far away into invisibility.

Not only do we find limitations in the history of copper as related to its uses by man but, in discoursing on its other relations, the same difficulties occur. Copper is a typical and phenomenal "mixer." It is found associated in one way or another with a great variety of substances. It exists in most soils and in ferruginous mineral waters; and all copper ores are always associated with something. It has been discovered in seaweed, in straw, hay, eggs, cheese, and meat—in short, in the liver and kidneys, and traces of it have been found in the blood of man and animals.—Compressed Air Magazine.

Mosaic Glass

Mosaic glass is produced by arranging vertically side by side threads or small canes of variously colored opaque or transparent glass, of uniform lengths, so that the ends shall form a ground representing: flowers, arabesques, or any mosaic design. This mass is now submitted to a heat sufficient to fuse the whole, all the sides at the same time being pressed together so as to exclude the air from the interstices of the threads. The result is a homogeneous solid cane or cylinder, which, being cut at right angles or laterally, yields a number of layers or copies of the same uniform design. This process was practiced with great skill by the ancients, who are supposed to have produced pictures in this way; but in existing specimens the pieces have been so accurately united, by intense heat or otherwise, that the junctures cannot be discovered by even a powerful magnifying glass.

Exactly

Aunt—Can you explain wireless telegraphy to me, Arthur?

Arthur—Well, if you had a very long dog, reaching from London to Liverpool, and you trod on its tail in London, it would bark in Liverpool. That's telegraph; and wireless is precisely the same only without the dog.—Passing Show, London.

Wonderful Choosing in
NEW SPRING HATS

$4.98—$18.50

Millinery takes on a more joyous tone—Straws and sheer silk fabrics gladden and beckon one, for it is Springtime at our store and the thrill of the choosing gives promise of balmy days and the caress of the south wind.

There are pokes and cloches and adorable little shepherdess effects—alluring mushrooms and intriguing turbans—fashioned of Milan or Milan Hemp or Coburg Braids. Some flower adorned; others Pariswise with craftily fashioned ribbon adornments, and still others with dashing effects of glycerined ostrich.

The new vivid Blues—defiant Reds and Soft Browns are prominent among their colorings.

New Shoes For Spring

OUR Spring assortment of smartly stylish footwear has just arrived and presents many interesting innovations. The new modes are especially designed to add to the beauty of Spring frocks and suits and are surprisingly low priced.

$7.50 - $8.00

For Afternoon Wear

The sandal is no longer popular for daytime wear and is replaced by the trig low shoe that fits close about the ankle or the quaint Colonial pump with buckles of jet or hammered silver. Patent leather, dull kid and suede are favored leathers.

$6.50 - $7.50

For Evening Wear

For dancing and the formal occasion, satin sandals in black or the new brown are favored. Rhinestone ornaments and buckles are extensively used.

$10 - $11

$7.50 - $6.00

Smartly stylish is this quaint Colonial pump and the favored choice for street wear. Buckles are small and of hammered silver.

Fashion leaders again approve the black satin sandal slipper for dancing and the formal occasion. Heels are quite high and often beaded.

GLASCO MAN CHARGED WITH 2nd DEGREE ASSAULT

Michael Mandoumi of Glasco was arrested Wednesday evening by Officer John Lavelle of the Saugerties force on complaint of Louis Buno, also of Glasco. Mandoumi was charged with attempting to commit a crime.

A hearing was held before Police Justice Gardner of Saugerties, and on motion of Attorney George F. Kaufman, Mandoumi was discharged as the warrant did not charge any specific crime. Chris J. Flanagan, representative of Buno, immediately after the court's action had a warrant sworn out charging Mandoumi with assault in the second degree. After a lengthy argument the court denied the motion to set aside the warrant and the case was adjourned until Thursday, April 1.

3. and Mandoumi released on furnishing bail of $300.

The affair it is said is the outcome of a dispute regarding the brickyard strike in Glasco. Mandoumi it is claimed was attacked by some of the men opposing his return to work and procuring a gun he attempted to shoot Buno, but the cartridge failed to explode.

CHIROPRACTORS FROWN ON CARROLL-LATTIN BILL

Local Chiropractors and their patients are being urged to ask Senator Bouton and Assemblyman Van Wageningen to vote against the Carroll-Lattin bill, now before the legislature, on the ground that the real purpose of the bill is the extermination of chiropractic in New York.

state. The bill proposes to put under the control of a medical board all physicians and also others, such as chiropractors, who do not practice medicine. There are approximately 15,000 doctors in New York state and 7,000 non-medical practitioners of whom 1,500 are chiropractors.

WHERE PARTIES DIFFER

By JOHN T. ADAMS,

Chairman of the Republican National Committee

The interest of labor, for it maintains the American standard of living and wages. It is supported in those northern industrial states where labor is honored and its rights safeguarded. Practically all general labor legislation has been the product of the Republican party. The Department of Labor itself, the Woman's bureau of that department, and the Children's bureau, are all products of Republican legislation. The Republican party pioneered in behalf of a federal child labor law. Another striking evidence of the difference in the attitude of the two old parties toward labor is furnished by comparative conditions of labor in the North and in the South. The most progressive and humane labor legislation in this country today is found in the northern Republican states. In the Democratic "Solid South" standards of work and living are much inferior to those in the North. Wages of labor are lower, and there is no welfare legislation for working people that characterizes northern Republican states. In accomplishing all this, the Republican party has never played the demagogue or class hatred, it has legislated for labor in the same broad spirit of Americanism which it has always shown in its policies for the protection and promotion of the general welfare.

The Republican party came into existence over the issue of free versus slave labor. The South and the Democratic party stood for slavery. With them manual labor was menial. The North and the Republican party stood for free labor. They looked upon human toil as being dignified. In the campaign of 1860, Lincoln clearly stated the issue to be between slave and free labor, and that if slavery were continued as a competitor to free labor it would underbid it, under-work it, degrade it, and destroy it. So the two old parties assumed these widely different viewpoints toward labor from the start. That inherent fundamental difference has prevailed throughout the years, and still continues. One of the cardinal principles of the Republican party is a protective tariff. It is primarily in

Berger Stock Sold at Auction

There was spirited bidding for the stock of ladies' and women's shoes, rubbers, hosiery, underwear and miscellaneous clothing which was recovered bankrupt stock of Joseph Berger who did business on lower Broadway and secreted the goods over his store and at East Kingston. The goods were put up at auction Thursday afternoon in the basement of the Fessenden building at 2 o'clock by Henry Klein, the trustee of the bankrupt, and were appraised at $2,124.15. Trustee Klein showed his skill as an auctioneer by having the bids run up to $2,240 at which figure they were struck off to Jacob Hoffman of Hudson, N. Y., of 16 Broadway stopping after he had bid $2,235.

Sarca Addresses The Hi-Y Club

Wednesday night a regular Hi-Y Club meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Mr. Sarca, assistant to Major General Allen of the Olympic committee, was the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Sarca said that Kingston was fortunate in having an Olympic contestant, one of the few stars who has been able to win two firsts. Mr. Craig, the man Mr. Sarca referred to, ran in the Stockholm Olympics, and is now a resident of this city. In former years, says Mr. Sarca, we have not done justice to our representatives. This year it is being impressed upon the country that the support of the United States Olympic team is a national responsibility. The country, as a whole, should know about the games. Formerly, Colonel R. M. Thompson, head of the Olympic committee, has with a few others, stood the expenses of the team. He has never challenged the country to support their representatives.

But this year the Olympics will be backed by the United States. Mr. Sarca is travelling and speaking to tell the people all about the games and about their part in them. There are three good reasons for the Olympics. If we can popularize the Olympic games with the youth of the country, we can lift the youths' standard and they will be more worth while men. Then there is the diplomatic phase. Our team can go over and try to exchange hospitalities with the other countries, and thus break down the barrier of misunderstanding between Europe and the U. S. The United States can't afford to be beaten in the Olympics. We are the greatest country and we must keep our athletic supremacy.

The Olympics can exert a tremendous influence for peace. Mr. Sarca then told of the method of choosing Olympic contestants. They choose themselves. First there are sectional tryouts; the winners of these go to the finals and the winners at the finals represent the U. S. Mr. Sarca's speech was well liked. After the speech the boys asked many questions concerning the Olympics. Mr. Sarca is a contestant for a place on the U. S. fencing team, and the hopes and good wishes of Kingston boys follow him. Mr. Craig showed pictures of the Stockholm Olympics, also some of his relics, his suit and medals.

In the Interests of Fair Play

A statement to be read and acted upon by the many who have benefited by Chiropractic

AN UNFAIR BILL is before the New York State Legislature at the present moment. The professed purpose of this bill is the protection of the public from unlicensed practitioners of all kinds. The real purpose of this Carroll-Lattin bill is the extermination of Chiropractic in New York State. The Carroll-Lattin bill proposes to put under the control of a medical board not only physicians, but also others such as chiropractors who do not practice medicine.

This real purpose back of the Carroll-Lattin bill was revealed to a witness who was present at a special confidential meeting of the New York County Medical Society held on February 28th, in the Academy of Medicine. The following is a report of what took place and what was said at this meeting:

THE FIRST SPEAKER was the chief counsel of the New York State Medical Society. He stated that the bill now pending before the legislature in reference to the registration of physicians, has its economic as well as its legal aspect. He quoted some of the following figures to illustrate this point:

1. There are approximately 15,000 doctors in N. Y. State, and the average income of each of these doctors is $3,000—this makes a total of $45,000,000 paid annually to the medical profession.

2. There are 3,000 non-medical practitioners in the State, 1,500 of whom are chiropractors and their income per year is $3,000 each, or a total of $9,000,000 each year.

The speaker then went on to say that not only should the normal $45,000,000 a year accrue to the medical profession, but also the $9,000,000 paid to other practitioners. He also made the statement that if the Carroll-Lattin bill were passed this is exactly what would happen, for this bill is intended to drive these other practitioners out of the state.

(If this bill can be put through the legislature, it will mean that the 15,000 medical men of New York will get this $9,000,000. This figures out at an annual increase of $600 in the income of each medical doctor.) To obtain this increase each medical doctor is being asked to pay a registration fee of $2 each for five years, or a total of $10 to enforce this act.

In conclusion he said: The operation of this act is such that if a non-medical practitioner were arrested under its provisions, he would be liable to a fine of $100 for every day he continued to practice in violation of this act. This would total for thirty days, for instance, $3,000. The act provides that a mere displaying of a sign, or the use of any designation implying legal practice, would be sufficient evidence to incriminate under this act.

roll-Lattin bill were passed this is exactly what would happen, for this bill is intended to drive these other practitioners out of the state.

In view of the facts given above, we believe that the proposed Carroll-Lattin bill is eminently unfair. Under the mask of being a measure to protect the public, it is in reality a direct attempt to exterminate Chiropractic in New York State. Not because Chiropractic has failed to benefit the public, but because it has been successful—so successful that the medical profession finds its income seriously affected.

IF you believe in fair play, immediately write to Senator Arthur F. Bouton, Senate Chamber, Albany, N. Y., and Assemblyman Simon B. Van Wagenen, Assembly Chamber, Albany, N. Y.,

Tell them to vote against the Carroll-Lattin bill.

S. A. Building Is Renovated

The old Hoffman building, corner Green and North Front streets, owned by the Salvation Army which was an eyesore for a long time by reason of its dilapidated condition, has been greatly improved through the energy of Captain Ralph Miller, in charge of the local Salvation Army headquarters. The stone building which was red, the paint having become badly scaled, has been given two coats of brownish yellow paint, the woodwork and window trimming given a darker brown, the front porch repaired and the floors relaid, the building now making a more attractive appearance.

Sarcka Gives 3 Olympic Talks

Wayne A. Sarcka, assistant to Major-General Henry T. Allen, executive officer of the American Olympic committee spoke to an enthusiastic audience at the Kingston High School, at the New Paltz Normal and High Schools combined and at the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

In introducing Mr. Sarcka at the Kingston High School, where he was received most enthusiastically, Mr. Van Ingen, principal of the High School, called attention to the fact that in addition to being a worker on the American Olympic Committee, Mr. Sarcka was a candidate as a contestant in the Olympic games as a fencer. From the applause which Mr. Sarcka received, Mr. Van Ingen remarked to the audience that he felt assured that they wished him the greatest possible success in his own efforts and the renewed applause which followed indicated the sincere good wishes of the boys and girls of the High School.

Mr. Sarcka said that there are very few people who are able to win two first prizes at the Olympic games and that Kingston is fortunate in having a resident who has accomplished that. This man is R. C. Craig, who participated in the Stockholm Olympics.

Silk-Producing Worm

A certain sort of silk-producing caterpillar was not long ago introduced into India. In Assam, where the insect is called "sil" it has been used for silk spinning for centuries; but, up to now, its employment for a purpose has been restricted almost exclusively to that region. The British government in India, however, has taken steps to extend the utilization of this caterpillar, with a view to producing its silk on a large scale. One of its advantages is that its cocoons are not sealed, like those of the ordinary silkworm. The larva leaves the end of its cocoon closed only with overlying loops of silk. This renders it unnecessary to kill the insect when its silk is used.

Cheeta Is Very Swift

For short distances the cheeta is supposed to be the swiftest quadruped. However, it is not possible to ascribe the honor definitely to any particular animal. The cheeta, which is found in Asia and Africa, is a large tropical cat, slender of body and limb. It is from three to four feet long, and of a pale, tawny color, marked with numerous dark spots on its sides and back and almost white beneath. It resembles the leopard, and is often called the hunting leopard. The animal resembles the dog in docility. Its fur is not sleek like that of typical cats. It has a long tail, which is somewhat bushy at the end.

Steel Shavings Burn

A pile of steel shavings recently took fire at a large dynamo factory, presenting the unusual spectacle of a bonfire of steel. The shavings became heated from some rubbish burning nearby, and water proved useless in extinguishing the blazing steel. It was finally necessary to rake the pile apart in order to subdue the flames. In such a pile of steel oxidation takes place faster than the resulting heat can be carried away, and any heating from an outside source may actually lead to combustion.

It is from three to four feet long, and of a pale, tawny color, marked with numerous dark spots on its sides and back and almost white beneath. It resembles the leopard, and is often called the hunting leopard. The animal resembles the dog in docility. Its fur is not sleek like that of typical cats. It has a long tail, which is somewhat bushy at the end.

Steel Shavings Burn

A pile of steel shavings recently took fire at a large dynamo factory, presenting the unusual spectacle of a bonfire of steel. The shavings became heated from some rubbish burning nearby, and water proved useless in extinguishing the blazing steel. It was finally necessary to rake the pile apart in order to subdue the flames. In such a pile of steel oxidation takes place faster than the resulting heat can be carried away, and any heating from an outside source may actually lead to combustion.

WILL BE COMMITTEEMAN

U. S. S. A.
FORMER SENATOR CHAS. A. RAWSON of Iowa

Senator Rawson has been selected Republican national committeeman for Iowa to succeed John T. Adams, who has served in this capacity for twelve years, and declined to be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Adams has been chairman of the national committee since 1921, a position which has required his entire attention.

FORMER HOME OF A GREAT DIPLOMAT

The national capital is filled with old homes that are rich in tradition and distinction, and among them is that of the late John Hay, an outstanding figure in American diplomacy. He was Ambassador to England and Secretary of State under President McKinley, and continued in the latter position under President Roosevelt. In his youth he was private secretary to Abraham Lincoln. This fine old home is now the residence of Mr. Hay's son-in-law and daughter, Senator and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr. Senator Wadsworth is the senior senator for New York and is a national Republican leader.

St. Mary's Boy Scout League

By defeating the Tiskilwa Five on Thursday by a score of 21-14 the Owls practically clinched the championship cup in St. Mary's Boy Scout Basketball League. With only a few games to be played the Owls' record stands 8 won and one lost for a percentage of 88%. The Woodcrafts with a victory over the Semaphores go again into a tie for second with the Tiskilwas. William Scully heads the scoring column with an undisputed title.

Borgman Leads Met. Scorers

For Entire Season With a Total of 407 Points—Brennan Is Second With Carl Husta Third—Artus and C. Husta Played in Every League Game.

Benny Borgman, the diminutive star of the Paterson Legionaires, leads the Metropolitan Basketball League for the entire season in total points scored. This has been accomplished by virtue of the big lead run up by the Paterson favorite during the first half of the season, when he outscored Joe Brennan, his nearest competitor by 43 points. Although Brennan topped the point scoring honors for the second half, his lead of six points was not sufficient to overtake Borgman in the race for the season's honors.
Of the first ten scoring men, Borgman, Brennan, C. Husta, Banks, Malone and Carey were the most consistent, as they were similarly placed in both halves of the race.
C. Husta and Artus of Kingston, and Malone and Garland of Yonkers were the iron men of the circuit, having played in every league game with their respective teams.

Hi-Y Basketball League Closes

Wednesday night the Senecas and the Blackfeet played off the tie in the Hi-Y basketball league. The Senecas easily trimmed the Blackfeet by a 27 to 14 score. Riseley and Perry were high scorers for the winners with 15 and 8 points respectively. Whiston and Herzog played good games at guard. Hyatt also did some good work.
Messinger and Rose were the high scorers for the losers with 4 points each.
